Four Persons Die As Tank Collapses

Water Storage Structure Sends Flood Through Tucumcari

Tucumcari, N. M., Dec. 13 (AP)—A 750,000 gallon water tank collapsed today, killed four persons and caused damage estimated in millions.

Giving away with a deep rumble, the tank loosed a flood through the business district about 4:10 a. m. (MST). The cause was not determined.

Water up to waist deep spread devastation over an area three blocks wide and, in a lessening degree as the distance grew, a quarter mile long. The scene was likened to one hit by a bomb.

Two business places, the city warehouse and about 15 homes, mostly of adobe. (mud brick), were laid waste. Another establishment, a motor firm, was damaged by water. Pieces of three-eighths-inch thick steel from the tank were scattered over a city block.

Rescuers, including quickly mobilized National Guardsmen, recovered four bodies. There were no reports of any person missing. The last to be found, a boy 3 or 4 years old, was under a 250-foot section of the tank.

Dead Identified

The dead were identified as:

14.

Deal Elliott, about 60.

A Mrs. San Miguel, 45, and her infant son.

Steve Gallegos, about 14.

Damage was centered in a section containing homes of Spanish-American families and some business houses.

Henry Folkes, working about 400 yards distant in the Southern Pacific Railroad yards, said:

"I heard a slight rumble, but no

Mediation Service Enters Steel Talks

Two U. S. Figures Told to Confer With Union Men

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Federal Mediation Service today moved into the steel wage negotiations at Pittsburgh.

Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching announced that he has asked Clyde M. Mills, assistant director, and Walter A. Maggiolo, acting general counsel, to confer with representatives of the CIO Steel Workers and the steel industry.

Ching said the two would meet with the representatives today and tomorrow and report back to him on the status of negotiations.

The CIO union and U. S. Steel Corp., bellwether of the industry, have been negotiating on a new contract for three weeks.

The union has said publicly that it wants a substantial wage increase over the average hourly $1.95 pay that its million members now earn. It also is seeking a union shop, a guaranteed annual wage, and improved premium and incentive pay.

Demands Presented

The same demands have been presented to most of the other steel producers, who usually wait for a U. S. Steel settlement to follow as a pattern.

The contract between U. S. Steel and the CIO is due to expire Dec. 31, leaving the workers free to strike.

A spokesman for the mediation service said Ching's announcement is a "formal preliminary step" on the part of the service.

Asked if this meant that negotiations have struck a snag, he declined to comment.

He said Mills and Maggiolo would fly to Pittsburgh sometime during the afternoon.

Official Canvass Shows Public Support for Thruway Sale of Bonds

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 13 (AP)—The Constitutional Amendment permitting the state to place its credit behind $500,000,000 in State Thruway Authority bonds was approved by the people by an official margin of 1,196,277 votes.

The State Board of Canvassers released official figures today on the Nov. 6 election, which showed 1,563,044 "yes" votes for the amendment and 368,767 "no" votes.

The State Thruway Authority is an autonomous public agency that is constructing and will operate the 500-mile cross-state expressway.

Placing of the state's cerdit behind Thruway bonds means a saving of $120,000,000 in interest charges, the authority claims. Because it is not an official state agency it was necessary to amend the constitution in order to put the state's credit behind authority bonds.

The eight amendments approved by the voters on Election Day drew a total of 4,142,017, yes, no, and blank and void votes. The total of registered voters was 5,468,246.

In the case of each amendment, the blank and void votes were greater than the combined yes and no votes.

Other Amendments

The Board of Canvassers announced these official voting totals on the other amendments:

Amendment 1: Extends war ballot privileges to servicemen in time of peace as well as war and to the wife, parents or children accompanying a serviceman to his post; yes—1,695,034; no—193,223; yes majority—1,501,811.

Amendment 2: Permits servicemen and members of their immediate families to vote without registering personally by considering application for absentee (war) ballot as personal registration; yes—1,584,025; no—217,601; yes majority—1,366,424.

Amendment 3: Authorizes the Legislature to use state funds or credit to increase pensions of retired state or municipal employes; yes—1,392,034; no—471,148; yes majority—920,886.

Amendment 5: Permits the Court of Appeals to hear appeals from non-final orders of the Appellate Division involving a public agency, if the higher court so desires: yes—1,357,821; no—278,959; yes majority—1,078,862.

Amendment 6: Increases the statutory debt limit of many municipalities; fixes a debt limit

Tentative Budget Is $202,490 Over 1951 for County

Board Will Take Action This Evening After Hearing Held at Court House

A tentative county budget up $202,490.49 over the 1951 budget was submitted by the Budget Committee at a public hearing at the court house at 3 o'clock today.

Following the budget hearing this afternoon the board will meet at 8 o'clock this evening when it is expected to take action on the 1952 budget.

The amount in the tax levy against real estate for operation of the county of Ulster during 1952 as proposed in the tentative budget is $1,870,513.10. In 1951 that amount was $1,668,022.61.

The total appropriations of all funds, excluding inter-fund items, amounts to $4,444,354.40.

Estimated revenues, (excluding inter-fund items), appropriated cash surplus and appropriated reserves amount to $2,573,841.30, leaving a balance of $1,870,513.10 to be raised by real estate tax levy.

No Warrants Are Issued in Ulster And Greene Areas

An announced crackdown by the Internal Revenue office on delinquent taxpayers of Eastern New York has not been felt—so far—in Ulster and Greene counties, the local division chief said today.

Philip F. McDonald, chief of the Internal Revenue's division office in Kingston, said the number of warrants coming to the local office has not been above the normal five or six a week for the two-county district.

It was explained that there is usually some delay between the time a crackdown is announced at the district office and the time the warrants are received locally. Under the law, taxpayers who owe taxes are sent first and second notes direct from the Albany office. If the second note remains unanswered, then warrants are issued and relayed to the local offices.

Walter R. Sturr, internal revenue collector at Albany, announced on Wednesday that his office issued 24,838 warrants in recent weeks. He added that he was preparing to file liens against property owned by the delinquents. Sturr said taxpayers in eastern New York owe more than $12,000,000 in back taxes. The district covers 21 counties from Yonkers to the Canadian border.

Man in Hospital Accused Of Having Burglar Tools

Monroe, Dec. 13 (AP)—A police car reported stolen from Fair Lawn, N. J., crashed with a tractor-trailer near here early today and the driver of the police car was taken to a hospital.

Police identified the driver as Lawrence W. Britt, 25, of 23 South Sixth street, Newark, N. J., and said he fled in the car from the Fair Lawn, N. J., police headquarters where he was being questioned concerning some burglary tools.

Britt was hospitalized at Cornwall after the crash on Route 32 at Central Valley.

At Fair Lawn, Police Sergeant Edward Kuiken gave this account of the escape:

Britt and Anthony Kalikowski, 32, of Jersey City, N. J., were picked up by police at 3:25 a. m. as burglar suspects as they sat in a parked car found to contain burglar tools.

The two suspects were taken to separate rooms at the police station for questioning, and Britt ran out as an officer guarding him started to write a report. Police later found he had stolen the police car parked outside.

Kuiken said Britt was wanted for breaking and entering in Jersey City and Kalikowski was on parole.

Kalikowski, who was booked on a disorderly person charge, violated his parole by being out so late at night and by being in Britt's company, the sergeant said.

Britt is confined to Cornwall Hospital with head and back injuries suffered in the collision.

The tractor-trailer is owned by the Weston Transportation Company of Newburgh and was operated by Holger Holt, 38, of Newburgh.

Three Fair Lawn police officers arrived here later to make preliminary arrangements for returning Britt to New Jersey. It was not known immediately how long Britt would remain in the hospital.

The officers were Capt. Louis J. Risacher, Detective Sgt. John La Grosa and Patrolman Charles Strand.

Allies Hold Against Any Death Hike

Truce Committee Says No Progress Is Made, but Break Might Be Reported Soon

Safety Is Key

Admiral Libby Informs Reds Assurances Are Necessary

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Allies today demanded the Reds guarantee there would be no "death march" of Allied prisoners in Korea.

"No progress of any sort" was reported by a truce subcommittee on prisoners, but spokesmen for both sides indicated another subcommittee might soon break a 17-day deadlock on how to police an armistice. They didn't get anywhere today.

An official UN command spokesman said the Reds may hold many prisoners in camps far to the east of Panmunjom, where the Communists want to trade prisoners.

"We don't want our prisoners to have to walk hundreds of miles," said Lt. Col. Howard S. Levie. "We don't want a (Bataan) death march in reverse."

No 'Blind Payment'

A tough talking American admiral told the Reds there would be no "blind payment" on prisoner exchange until the Communists gave assurances of the safety of Allied fighting men they hold.

Levie said statements of Rear Adm. R. E. Libby implied "the Communists have some sinister reason for withholding information."

Levie said the United Nations wants the Communists' prisoner lists now because "if we get the names of five, ten or 15,000 we will know that we will get at least that number back. If we get a figure we consider completely out of line with our estimates, there is going to be quite a bit of discussion before we come to agreement."

The two subcommittees will meet in Panmunjom again at 11 a. m. Friday (9 p. m., EST Thursday.)

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hseih Fang opened Thursday's truce supervision session with a 45-minute tirade against the latest UN proposal. Then he expressed confidence a solution could be found if both sides searched for one.

Ready to Talk

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner said allied negotiators were ready to discuss any reasonable proposal.

The UN negotiators said the deadlock would be broken if the Reds accepted the seven-point UN proposal submitted Wednesday. The Reds said they didn't like it but they have not turned it down.

In the prisoner session Admiral Libby told the Communists the allies "will not be duped by your obstinate refusal to give us the real reason why you are afraid to exchange prisoner of war information now."

Wednesday the UN command expressed fear that the Reds may not deliver all the allied prisoners of war they hold. That is one reason the UN will not agree to a wholesale trade of prisoners as the Reds demand.

Libby said flatly there would be no "blind payment" of some 100,000 Red POWs in allied hands until the Communists disclose how many allied prisoners they hold.

Even though no progress was reported by either subcommittee Thursday, many observers at UN advance headquarters said it is possible that an armistice can be signed before the cease-fire line agreement expires Dec. 27. If no agreement is reached before the deadline, the line must be redrawn just before an armistice is signed.

Taft to Get Operation

Cincinnati, Dec. 13 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft wil have his tonsils removed tomorrow, a member of the family announced today. The senator, a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, expects to leave the hospital Sunday. Taft's campaign plans call for little activity until after the holidays.

In Hurray to Get Home

Vergennes, Vt., Dec. 13 (AP)—Three army infantrymen were in such a hurry to get home yesterday after 13 months in Korea that they hired a cab to take them the 220 miles from Boston to Vergennes. The six-hour trip cost Cpls. Willard C. Blair and Richard Hall and Pfc. Alfred Robarge a total of $100.

Oil Burner Fire

An oil burner fire at 436 Hasbrouck avenue was extinguished by firemen at 3:08 p. m. Wednesday. Chemicals were used on the fire, which was attributed by Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford to an oil burner out of adjustment in the kitchen range in the apartment occupied by Graham Davis.

President Promises To Clean Government

New Arms Plan Offered With Secondary Changes

Basic Ideas Returned by Big Three in Efforts to Get Agreement

Paris, Dec. 13 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France introduced in the United Nations today a revised disarmament plan. It retains basic ideas of their original proposals but makes some changes on secondary issues in an effort to reach an agreement with Soviet Russia.

The new resolution left unchanged the major western demands for closely supervised, step-by-step arms cut. The Big Three also refused to bow to the Soviet Union's insistence that the atom bomb be prohibited immediately.

The resolution was circulated to the delegations today, but U. S. Ambassador Philip Jessup lost a chance to explain it publicly this afternoon because the 60-nation political committee cancelled its scheduled session so that delegates could attend the general assembly meeting. Jessup will speak tomorrow.

Paragraphs Altered

Comparison of the next text with the original shows that almost every paragraphs has been changed, although in some cases there was only minor modification of wording.

The general assembly, meanwhile, again deadlocked in voting to choose between American-supported Greece and the Soviet Union's Byelo (White) Russia for the 11th seat on the security council.

Eight ballots last week failed to settle the issue. When seven more today still brought no decision, assembly president Luis Padillo Nervo suspended further voting until next week.

On the 15th ballot Greece had 36 votes, White Russia 23. Forty votes are required for election.

Concessions Are Made

The western powers planned to submit their disarmament revisions to the assembly's 60-nation political committee at the session starting at 3 p. m. (9 a. m. EST) today. The text of the revised draft was not immediately available, but a high western source said that it would make the following consessions:

1. The proposed disarmament commission—to which Russia and the west have agreed—would be directed to report to the UN by June 1, 1952, on ways and means of ending the world arms race. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky had objected because the original western plan fixed no date for the committee to report.

2. The proposal for retention by each nation of forces "necessary for defense" changes to meet the Russian insistence on different standards for primarily land powers such as the Soviet Union and such sea powers as Britain.

3. The section dealing with the standards to be set up to determine arms levels is given a "more neutral phrasing."

4. The revision defines more specifically what the western powers mean by "countries with substantial armaments," which the Russians have rejected as a vague phrasing.

Resolution Adopted Over U. S. Objections

Paris, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Economic Committee of the UN Assembly, over strong U. S. objections, adopted today a small power resolution proposing establishment of a huge new world development fund.

A United States delegate had warned the committee U. S. support for the project could not be counted upon. The vote was 28 for, 20 against and 9 abstentions. The western Big Three voted against it, the Russian bloc abstained.

Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), U. S. delegate, said the plan wouldn't work because only the United States has any money at all for it and it already is deeper into the purse than any other country.

"That's undiplomatic language," he said, "but the truth."

Newburgh, Ravena Train Trip Made By Less Than Two

Only 41 Passengers Use Line During August; Railroad Figures Presented

Train No. 19 carried an average of less than one and a half passengers per trip between Newburgh and Ravena in the two months prior to its removal on Sept. 30 by the West Shore railroad, according to testimony submitted at a Public Service Commission hearing here this morning.

C. J. Tompkins, chief clerk of the New York Central Railroad Company's office of auditor passenger accounts at Detroit, testified that in the entire month of August, the northbound train in question carried a total of 41 passengers between Newburgh and the train's terminus at Ravena, for an average of 1.5 passengers a trip.

From Sept. 1 until Sept. 29, inclusive, the same train carried only 27 passengers, for an average of 1.1 passengers per trip, he said.

Two Trains Off

The hearing was resumed this morning following an adjournment taken Nov. 8. The hearing was ordered after local groups protested the removal of two daily and two weekend trains from the New York Central's River Division, commonly known as the West Shore.

Train No. 19 before its discontinuance left Weehawken at 11:24 p. m. daily except Sunday, stopped at Kingston at 2:45 a. m. and terminated at Ravena at 3:41 a. m.

The other daily train in question, No. 6, left Albany at 1:30 a. m. except Monday, stopping at Kingston at 3:10 a. m. and arriving at Weehawken at 5:40 a. m.

In the month of August, 1951, Train No. 6 carried an average of 2.3 passengers per trip between Albany and Newburgh, Tompkins testified.

Attorneys Disagree

It was brought out by Attorneys Frederick Stang and John L. Larkin that the figures supplied by Tompkins did not include local passengers or commutation fares between Newburgh and New York. Commutation trip book fares between points north of Newburgh, such as between Newburgh and Kingston, also were not included "if there is any such thing," Tompkins said in answer to questions by the county attorney. He expressed doubt as to whether there were any commutation tickets between those two points.

Tompkins also said in answer to interrogation that if a person with a ticket for St. Louis or other such point used Train 19 to get to Albany, that would not be shown in the figures submitted by him. He added that such persons "had no business" being on that train, since it terminated in Ravena and did not go through to Albany.

Calls Record Incomplete

Stang, representing Ulster county, one of the petitioners in the case, objected to the inclusion of Tompkin's figures in the evidence because he contended they "were incomplete," and did not tell the full story of the earnings of the two trains in question.

Testimony was that Mrs. Adams, mother of four children, married former paratrooper, Hugh Wilson, 29, in 1949. Witnesses said she explained the presence of Adams and the children in her house by telling Wilson that Adams was her brother, and his wife had died in childbirth. Naster Says Story 'Concocted'; Tells Of Phone Call

Tells Committee He Feels Teitelbaum Made Up Tale About Him and Nathan

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—Bert K. Naster today accused Abraham Teitelbaum of "concocting" the story about a $500,000 tax shakedown allegedly engineered by Naster and Frank Nathan.

Naster, Miami electrical manufacturer, was on the stand for the second day before a House Ways and Means subcommittee looking into Teitelbaum's shakedown charge as part of its investigation of tax scandals.

Naster was again a balky, uncertain witness. His testimony was interrupted frequently by long conferences with his attorney.

He said he first heard of the alleged attempt to "take" Teitelbaum for $500,000 in a long-distance telephone call from Nathan in New York last July.

He said he told Nathan the story was "silly" and hung up.

"It's very evident now that Teitelbaum concocted all this story," he asserted.

As he did yesterday, Naster again flatly denied ever discussing with Teitelbaum anything about taxes, about getting a lawyer to handle Teitelbaum's own tax troubles, or about money.

Nor, he added, had he ever discussed these matters with Nathan, a Miami and Pittsburgh promoter

Has No Plan To Get Rid of 2 Bigwigs

McGrath and McKinney Do Not Figure in His Housecleaning Plans, He Says

Admits His 'Sale'

Faithlessness of Some Disturbed Him, He Declares

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—President Truman today promised what he called continued drastic action to clean house in the government.

He indicated he will set up a special agency to fight corruption, possibly tomorrow or Saturday.

Allowing himself to be quoted directly at one point on the scandals in the tax collecting and some other agencies, Mr. Truman told a news conference:

"Wrongdoers have no house with me no matter who they are or how big they are."

In response to questions, the President said he has no plans to fire Attorney General J. Howard McGrath or Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney.

Dismissal Demanded

Several Republican members of Congress have demanded the dismissal of McGrath as a result of disclosures in the House investigation of tax scandals.

Chairman King (D-Calif.) of the House group had publicly said he believes T. Lamar Caudle, assistant attorney general in charge of the tax division, was unfaithful to his public trust.

Mr. Truman fired Caudle last month.

McKinney has come under fire because of the disclosure that he made a $68,000 profit on a $1,000 investment in a tractor firm headed by a man whose wartime government ordnance contracts were sharply criticized by Mr. Truman, then a senator.

Mr. Truman's news conference, always well-attended, drew an even heavier than usual attendance of reporters who anticipated he might announce some dramatic action in connection with the newest disclosures.

Emphatic in Statement

When the subject came up, the President declared with firm emphasis that his administration always has acted swiftly to eliminate wrongdoers from its ranks and will continue to do so.

He said his administration did exactly this, through its loyalty boards, in the case of Communists who were found to be working for the government.

These were brought to trial and convictions were obtained by the attorney general, just as they should have been, despite a great deal of ballyhoo to the contrary, the President said.

He declared that the public officials recently fired — including Caudle — all were being investigated by the executive branch of the government before their names turned up in congressional investigations.

Wise to Caudle

He said the administration was wise to Caudle, who has been accused of taking favors from persons involved in tax difficulties with the government, long before such charges were made by the House Ways and Means Subcommittee investigating the tax scandals.

Caudle's resignation would have been askd even without the committee's intervention, the President added.

A reporter expressed surprise at this, recalling that McGrath,

U.S. Sabre Jets Bag 13 Reds; Minor Battles Occur on Land

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 13 (AP)—American Sabre jets pilots won history's biggest all jet victory today. They bagged 15 Communist MIGs, probably knocked down two others and damaged one in two slashing air battles over North Korea.

Four of the MIGs went down before the blazing guns of America's hottest jet ace, Maj. George A. Davis, Jr., of Lubbock, Tex. In 16 days Davis has bagged 12 planes, including nine MIGs.

On the ground, a series of minor battles flared today as allied infantrymen carried the war to the Reds for the second time in 24 hours.

The Fifth Air Force said none of the Sabre jets was shot down, but one ran out of fuel, caught fire and crashed. A helicopter rescued the pilot.

Heavily outnumbered Sabres knocked down four MIGs and damaged one in the morning battle over Sinanju in northwest Korea.

Nine more MIGs were destroyed in the afternoon. Pilots reported two probables.

Sixty-four Sabres were matched against 145 MIGs in the two battles.

Davis bagged two planes in each fight.

"Yeah, I went up twice today," he said. "We were just north of the Sinanju river when we saw a flight of about 50 MIGs. I just led my 12 planes into the middle of them."

This was the second time Davis has bagged four enemy planes in a single day. On Dec. 5 he shot down three Communist TU-2 bombers and a MIG. His first two jets were destroyed Nov. 28. He added two more Dec. 5.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters said an allied raiding team battled Red ground troops north of Korangpo on the western front most of Thursday morning. The raiders returned to their own lines before noon under cover of an artillery barrage.

An allied unit battled for seven hours Wednesday with Red troops sounth of Panmunjom, site of the truce talks.

On the eastern front allied troops threw back three Red probing jabs Thursday west of the Mundung valley. The central front was quiet.

Work of Mental Health Group Told

The mental health committee, organized under the auspices of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, two years ago, reaches out into the community offering services of vital importance to persons within the Kingston area, said Miss Katharine Murphy, local secretary, as she traced its origin and branches of service before the Monday Evening Discussion Group at the regular weekly meeting in the lounge of the new Vocational Building.

The local mental health committee under the chairmanship of Dr. Edward Shea, of Kingston, consists of the office personnel of the local association and volunteer members. With the combined efforts of the two groups, Miss Murphy stressed that the committee endeavors to foster the following aims:

1. The promotion of positive mental health through public education.
2. The application of mental hygiene principles in community relationships.
3. The assistance in the development and maintenance of the most adequate services available for the mentally handicapped.
4. To create a better understanding of mental illness from a positive approach.

Within these brief two years following the origin of the mental health committee, the community has benefited from many worthwhile activities. Foremost among the services, under the direction of the committee, was the Professional Workers' Institute held at various intervals during the past year at the Governor Clinton Hotel and bringing in authoritative speakers in the main branches of mental hygiene, she said. A series of local radio broadcasts and discussion groups have been organized throughout the Kingston area. A course in "Family Life" was instituted at the Kingston High School. Public Affairs pamphlets containing informative materials on mental health problems have been distributed giving the lay person the benefits of research and advice in many mental health areas. The pamphlet, Building Your Marriage is presented to all persons as the marriage license is procured. Here the Pelican, complete in 12 monthly leaflets, is presented to parents at the arrival of the first child within the family group. Mental health recordings, used as a basis for discussion and for the purpose of records form another important phase of the work of the committee. Open meetings on mental hygiene and tubercular tests given in the local hospitals conclude the main projects undertaken.

Bigger Program Planned

With a forward look to the future, Miss Murphy said that the committee would promote a more far-reaching program on mental health education within the county with the cooperation of the professional personnel and the lay persons. Community resources for the development of good mental health through hospital services and out-patient clinics for diagnosis and treatment is another goal that the present committee is striving for.

In conclusion, Miss Murphy described the basically mentally healthy individual as the person who has confidence, self-respect and tolerance for others. This person is capable of meeting the problems of daily living and becomes a useful member of the community.

Introducing another phase of mental health, the controversial topic of The Effects of Comics Upon Children, John Connolly, health education assistant of the local association, presented a recording on comics.

Talks on Comics

Opening his talk, Connolly noted that 20 million comics are bought every month. With such a wide universal appeal to children of all ages, parents, he said, should avoid a critical and resentful attitude toward the problem of "comic" reading. "An open mind on the part of the parent is a wholesome, sane approach. In a frank discussion with the child regarding his opinions of comics, a child may be guided toward a more critical viewpoint of his own," the speaker said.

Among the evident reasons for the general appeal of comics among children he said are excitement offered, opportunity to share in a world of fantasy, and vivid descriptions with quick action without accompanying lengthy word detail. Realizing these reasons and the tremendous influence of comics upon children, parents may utilize this appeal constructively as a passage to children's literature. Parent discussions on children's books with their children encourage them to include and eventually to enlarge their readings in acceptable literature. Forbidding children to read current comics may create an even more avid reading of the comics "undercover," Connolly added.

Speaking from a hygiene point of view, on the effects of comics upon children, Connolly said that comics serve as an outlet for children's ideas of fantasy. They tend to bring out into the open any hidden feelings that a child may be harboring. There is no concrete evidence to point out that delinquency is heightened through the reading of comics; nor that health habits are generally affected.

In conclusion, Connolly suggested that the parent may successfully meet the problem of comics by helping his child to select the best from among the 150 titles currently on the market. This wholesome attitude on the part of the parent creates a feeling of confidence and trust within the child and guides him to accept a parent's suggestion concerning worthwhile, alive and interesting books in the field of children's literature.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Dec. 12—Mr. and Mrs. John Countryman have moved into their new home on Route 208 near Bennett's Service Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and son, Bobbie of New Jersey, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, Sunday.

Several from here attended the Wallkill Valley Community Chorus concert at the Walden Methodist Church Monday night. William Topping, music director of the Wallkill Central School, directed the concert. He also is director of the New Hurley church choir.

The Missionary Society Christmas program, Candles of God, will be presented by Mrs. Burton Ward Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bertha Powell, St. Elmo. All members are requested to bring food or other articles for the Christmas sale. Mrs. Myra Dolan and Mrs. Gerow Wilkin are in charge. The women of the community are cordially invited.

There will be regular preaching services in the church at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. Sunday, Dec. 16. All are welcome. Junior choir rehearsal will be held Thursday at 7 p. m. and senior choir at 8 p. m.

The Sunday school Christmas program will be held in the church Sunday, Dec. 23, at 8 p. m. A Christmas pageant will be presented. Committee in charge are Mrs. Richard Schoonmaker and Mrs. Burton Van Aken with William Topping directing the music.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Club held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Wager Dec. 1, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin; vice-president, Mrs. Duane Dolan; secretary, Mrs. Edwin Nelson; treasurer, Mrs. Edward Humphrey, re-elected. At the close of the meeting a social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Wager, and assistant, Mrs. Edwin Nelson.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society held at the Wager home Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Dagmer Nelson as the hostess, election of officers took place with all officers being re-elected with the exception of Mrs. George Sherwood who had served for two years and she did not care to serve again. Therefore no president was secured. Mrs. Myra Dolan will take charge of the January meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. Clifford Hotaling. The present officers are: Vice-president, Mrs. Gerow Wilkin; secretary, Mrs. Gerow Schoonmaker, and treasurer, Mrs. Clifford Hotaling.

Own Radar Traps Him

Groton, Conn., Dec. 13 (AP)—State police-operated radar trapped Ralph L. Thompson, 40, of New Hyde Park, N. Y., as a speeder on the Gold Star Memorial Bridge. The state policeman who flagged him down charged him with traveling 52 miles an hour in a zone posted for a 25-mile limit. "He was trapped by his own Frankenstein," said Lt. William E. MacKecnzie, commander at the Groton barracks, explaining that Thompson works for a company which distributes the radar sets being used by state police in a drive against speeders. Thompson posted $15 bond for appearance in town court here on Monday.

Priest Dies at 90

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Right Rev. Msgr. John L. Belford, a Roman Catholic priest for 63 years, died last night in the rectory of his Brooklyn church. He was 90 years old. As pastor of St. Dominic's Church in Oyster Bay, N. Y., he won the friendship of the late President Theodore Roosevelt. He fought civic graft and corruption, and was outspoken of the clergy in his opposition to prohibition. In the 1930's he termed the "Radio Priest," the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, of Royal Oak, Mich., an "infernal nuisance."

STEP TO CUT WASTE

Officers in the armed forces are rated periodically on their efficiency and on the qualities of leadership they display. The reports are prepared by superiors, and affect assignments and promotion. The newest factor on which officers in the Navy will be graded is "cost consciousness," the officer's awareness of the need for economical use of men, materials and money. Presumably an officer who is eager for a high rating and promotion will now be encouraged to do his best to check wasteful practices wherever he can.

Reports of service extravagances reduce public confidence in the armed forces and make it more difficult for defense leaders to get needed appropriations. Wastefulness can lead to shortages and if these shortages occur during an emergency the services cannot do their job properly. An officer's efficiency depends in part on how wisely he can use the men and materials assigned to him to do a job.

The Navy included the cost-consciousness factor in its rating reports on the recommendation of the Senate Armed Forces Preparedness Committee. The move may help to fix responsibility for waste and check it. No thinking citizen would want the efficiency of the armed forces impaired by penny-pinching tactics. But needless waste can have disastrous results and any step to eliminate it should be applauded.

ACCEPTANCE OF MUSIC

It is an ancient observation that a prophet is ignored by those to whom he is familiar. It is also frequently true that the creators of fine music get little attention from the people around them. In America it has been especially so because of a persistent but fallacious notion that the best music and musicians come from Europe. The Continent has had more than its share of eminent artists and composers, but even there the greatest music has often had to wait for a later generation to be appreciated.

A number of orchestra and band conductors make it a policy to introduce contemporary American composers to the American public. Partly as a result of such efforts, music-lovers in growing numbers are beginning to discover that great music is being written today in our land. We can borrow much from the past and much from other countries, but we also have artistry of our own. It would thrive even better if it were more widely recognized.

ACCIDENT SURVIVAL

The appalling motor vehicle death toll in the Mid-Hudson Valley in recent weeks reemphasizes the need of teaching drivers how to avoid accidents. But until we find the way to eliminate accidents there is another approach to the problem which probably could save many lives. More attention must be given to ways to increase the passenger's chances of surviving an accident.

Some steps have been taken in this direction as automobiles have developed. Safety glass and steel tops, for example, were created chiefly to provide better protection to riders. Some makers have experimented with cushioning and elimination of protruding knobs.

There must be many other changes which could help us to live through accidents until we can stop them.

'SMALL' BUSINESS

The importance of "small" business is further emphasized in a report issued by the State of New York Department of Labor, which shows about 95 per cent of all business firms in the state have fewer than 100 employes.

Sometimes we underestimate the contribution made by our local "small" firms to the welfare of the community, the state and the nation.

The study based on a special tabulation of pay rolls submitted quarterly by all employers in the state employment insurance system, covers 179,000 businesses each having four or more employes. Firms with fewer workers are not required to provide unemployment insurance coverage. The total number of business firms in the state is estimated at 600,000. This leaves 421,000 employing fewer than four people.

The most devasting anger a person can know is that which is directed against himself.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

QUO VADIS

The struggle for survival which we are witnessing is a war over fundamental ideas. It has nothing to do with boundaries, with the Curzon line between Russia and Poland or the 38th Parallel in Korea or any such matters. Surprisingly, it is not a struggle between capitalism and socialism.

Basically, it is the age-long battle for the soul of man so brilliantly described in the Bible in the Book of Job and in modern terms in Goethe's "Faust" and George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman."

When the Roman empire was at its height, it was on the verge of downfall. And the reason was that its soul was rotting. Corruption, luxury, vice, sin had multiplied with power. Roman justice had become an object of sale and barter. The world was collapsing about it because shamelessness had become a national characteristic.

Into this moral cesspool came a few Jews from Palestine and Syria and they spoke of God and of God's law of life. And the greatest of these was Simon called Peter who had known Jesus, and Paul, a rabbi from among the Pharisees, whose name had been Saul. These were Jews who believed in Jesus and also called themselves Christians.

They were poor and small, as human beings go, but they effectively conquered the great Roman empire and the western world. They conquered, not by legions and armaments, but by ideas and faith. It is the most singular fact in history that the intangible overcame the tangible, that the word mastered the sword.

No more necessary message can be spoken today when all the world is again suffering from the diseases which destroyed Rome. And that is why the motion picture, "Quo Vadis," is important.

Perhaps to the men who made this picture, this is just a business adventure that should pay off. Personally, I do not care anything about that. To me, "Quo Vadis" matters because, using all the skills of dramatization, of the beauties of art and color and magnificent acting, it tells the simplest of all truths.

Before I saw the picture, I had noted that some reviewers called it "corny," by which I presumed they really mean eternal, like the Ten Commandments, which Moses gave to the Jews on Mount Sinai, or the beatitudes which Jesus spoke to his followers. All these are, if you please, corny, but nonetheless true and unchangeable and everlasting.

When I heard these Christians singing Hallelujah in the Roman arenas where the lions were eating at them, I did not notice the lions at all. I only knew that nothing in this world can die when in the hearts of men and women faith in God is not dead. And when that faith is fervent, so that death itself has no terrors, the world can be saved.

There are those among us who speak eloquently of interfaith and there are those among us who stir hate among those who differ. But in this motion picture, the historic truth is always clear that Christianity was born of Judaism and flowered among heathens. It is a message that should cause us to pause in our hates, for we are ideologically brothers.

And in the making of this picture of the martyrdom of these former Jews and Heathens who became Christians, Jews played the greatest role. S. N. Behrman and Sonya Levien were two of the three who wrote the script. The third was a Christian, John Lee Mahin. Sam Zimbalist produced the picture; Mervyn Le Roy directed it. Louis M. Mayer and Nicholas Schenck managed the company which underwrote the enterprise and produced the finances for it.

To many, this may seem meaningless in the sense that the businessmen made a picture to earn a profit and that writers and directors worked on jobs.

To me this record shows a conviction that the message of "Quo Vadis" needed to be spoken in this chaotic age. Unfortunately many who will see it will only enjoy the spectacle and not the profound and chaste thought which is so clear in the novel of Sienkiewicz from which it was taken and in the picture itself. For me, the spectacle was a side show; and truth stood out like a flaming flare on a dark night. It spoke in syllables clear that God will triumph over the beast in all of us, once our faith in the goodness of God's law of life is accepted.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

INTRACTABLE OR UNBEARABLE PAIN

Physicians will tell you that practically all their patients consult them because of pain somewhere in the body. In most cases by hearing the patient's story, the physician is able to diagnose the underlying cause of the pain and prescribe the usual remedy, as pain is usually caused by pressure on a nerve somewhere—gas, swelling of adjoining tissues—which is relieved when pressure is removed.

There are, however, many cases where the cause of pain cannot be discovered and until it is discovered the patient expects and receives relief by quieting drugs or other forms of treatment. And when the pain becomes unbearable (intractable) the physician may find it necessary to use severe or extreme measures to relieve the patient's pain.

In The Canadian Medical Association Journal, Dr. John J. Bonica, Tacoma, Wash., states that the management of intractable pain is a difficult clinical problem and has taxed the knowledge and skill of physicians for centuries. This is because physicians do not understand the nature of pain itself nor its causes. We can thus understand why, until cause is found, safe, skillful management is necessary to give patient relief. We know that pain involves two factors—feeling or perception of pain and the reaction of the body and tissues to the pain. While pain can always be felt, reaction to the pain is different in different individuals and not always the same in the one individual. Some methods of pain relief try to help the patient to better withstand the pain before he feels the need of using drugs or other treatments; other measures are used to lessen the effect or reaction of the body to pain. Some drugs decrease both perception and reaction. Unfortunately some of these drugs affect breathing, digestion and the nervous system and cannot be given continuously.

Another method is blocking the nerves by injections of pain-killing drugs, such as procaine and alcohol, into a ganglion (bundle of nerves) which acts practically like a local anesthetic on the painful tissues. This nerve blocking is particularly helpful in pain due to high blood pressure, to pain in abdomen, and pain in muscles and tendons.

Finally, "the excruciating pain which is often present in malignant disease (cancer) may be adequately relieved with alcohol nerve blocks."

During past several years, Dr. Bonica states that nerve blocking has given 68 per cent complete relief and 25 per cent moderate relief. Only 6 per cent obtained little or no relief.

"Hope They Don't Bother You"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Speaker Sam Rayburn has grimly warned President Truman to take the initiative in cleaning up the administration, or have his legislative program wrecked. The speaker recommended that a crusading attorney general be named to start prosecutions.

The shrewd Texan, a veteran of many political storms, is described by friends as "extremely concerned" by the scandals. He told the President that, if he did not act quickly, mink coats would be thrown at the administration on every bill sent to Congress from 1600 Pennsylvania avenue. Under these circumstances, Rayburn warned, Democratic leaders would have no hope of controlling even a majority of their party members.

In private the speaker has gone much further. "Harry Truman is a dead duck politically right now," Rayburn has told friends, "and the party will be just as dead unless we can prove to the people we're cleaning out our own black sheep. If the administration won't move, it's up to Democrats in Congress to do it. After all, every one of us is concerned. The tax scandals are hurting us badly."

Rayburn has also intimated it might be necessary for party leaders on Capitol Hill to repudiate the Truman administration—unless the President moved energetically.

Capital News Capsules

The Price of Bill Oatis—Defense Secretary Lovett has told the State Department he will never agree to swap a steel mill for release of A.P. Correspondent William Oatis from a Czech prison. . . . The Czech government has told the United States the price for Oatis' freedom is delivery of a $22,000,000 steel mill ordered from the United States in 1946. The mill was completed and paid for by the Czechs but the State Department has been holding up delivery. . . . The Defense Department now contends that the Czech offer is pure blackmail and no matter how much it wants Oatis released it won't hand a steel mill over to Czechoslovakia.

U. S. Troops in Japan—Real reason for John Foster Dulles' quick trip to Japan was not personal, as he announced, but because the Japanese want to oust U. S. troops from the big cities. . . . Now that they have a peace treaty, the Japanese have served notice that they will decide where U. S. troops will be stationed, and propose moving them to smaller towns, out of sight of a majority of the Japanese people. . . . U. S. military men say this interferes with the proper defense of the country, and Dulles will try to persuade Japanese leaders to change their minds.

Behind the Iron Curtain—Word from Moscow is that Stalin has ordered Russia's top atomic scientists to produce atomic artillery for the Red army by June first—or else. U. S. observers say there's evidence Stalin and the politburo are shocked at America's success in perfecting this new battlefield weapon, and realize that, unless the Russians catch up in the next six months, the Red army will be hopelessly outdated. . . . Until recently, Stalin's advisers had told him the United States was bluffing and that it did not have any tactical atomic weapons. . . . But latest tests in Nevada have proved this to be false; so Stalin has now ordered an all-out production campaign. Unfortunately, the Russians already have made substantial strides toward developing atomic artillery and U. S. experts fear they will be ready to test their first shell some time in March.

Kefauver Boom—Friends of Sen. Estes Kefauver, the crime-buster, are practically lighting firecrackers under him urging him to announce as a Democratic candidate for president. The more Truman's stock sinks as a result of tax scandals, the more enthusiastic become Kefauver's friends.

They're already making plans in California, Illinois, and may thumb their noses at Gov. Fuller Warren of Florida by putting their man into that state as a direct challenge to the governor who refused to testify before Kefauver's crime committee. Jim Farley has been scounded out as a possible Kefauver campaign manager. Also Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Health and the Senate

The vacant post of GOP Senate leader is going begging, largely because the late Sen. Wherry's sudden demise has given GOP colleagues the shivers.

The three senior Republicans approached to take the job know that Wherry literally worked himself to death. They are:

Whimsical Gene Millikin, of Colorado, a key policy-maker who has suffered heart trouble. He fainted at a Republican regional meeting some weeks ago. Millikin flatly turned down the post.

Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, a ranking old guard leader acceptable both to Taft forces and middle-of-the-roaders, is recovering from a mastoid condition. He prefers to remain a power behind the throne.

Owen Brewster of Maine, who Senator Taft would like to see cracking the whip, is worried about his health. He canceled a recent Newark speaking engagement because of illness.

This leaves the field open to Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, bitterly opposed by the Taft crowd; Everett Dirksen of Illinois, a freshman Taftite who is opposed by the Eisenhower faction; and Bill Knowland of California, a conscientious worker who supports Gov. Earl Warren.

Merry-Go-Round

Mink coats and 12-pound hams should be scarce around Mike Di Salle's stabilization offices at Christmas time—if his staff follows the dictum that they are to accept no Christmas presents which they can't eat or drink inside 24 hours . . . John Sherman Cooper, ex-senator from Kentucky, now a delegate to the United Nations, will run for the Senate again—this time against Sen. Tom Underwood, Democrat . . . The Internal Revenue Bureau is stalling the Senate Crime Committee. Senators have asked for the income-tax returns of certain gamblers and police officials, but the tax bureau is moving like molasses . . . Congratulations to the Santa Cruz Sentinel-News for making 39 foreign students feel like it was Christmas time in the San Francisco Bay area. A Chinese cafe is treating the students to dinner, a Negro caterer is treating them to lunch, and the Y.W.C.A. is giving them a reception. The Sentinel-News wants to show them a cross-section of American life . . . The old OPA system of having retail stores post their prices will be instituted by OPS shortly. Then a customer can compare ceiling prices with the articles he is buying.

The Tilting Church

The Holy Trinity Church of Goodramgate, York, England, is one of the most remarkable houses of worship in the world. It was built in the 13th century. There is not a straight or level line in the whole structure. The walls and arcades lean crazily in all directions; the floors, ceilings, and the roof are up and down; the pews sag at all angles, but — services are still held here once a year.

Today in Washington

Optimistic Thought: Truce in Korea Seems to Be Assured Despite Fluctuations

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 13—A truce in Korea seems to be assured even though the negotiations fluctuate from day to day.

Likewise, if there is a truce, the whole policy of the United States toward the Far East may undergo a major evolution during 1952.

Once there is a cease-fire, the pressure to get the troops out will doubtless be as strong as it was in 1945 to bring the American forces home from overseas battlefields. The return can be accomplished only if South Korean forces are trained and equipped to take over the defense of that part of their country which will be under United Nations supervision. This training is going on now.

If the Communists violate the truce or commit any further acts of aggression against the South Korean republic after the truce is signed, action against the ports and strategic targets inside Communist China will be forthcoming.

The use of American air power and sea power against Communist China and active assistance to Chinese guerrillas will be inevitable if the Reds violate the truce. This is more or less conceded in high government councils.

The situation is slowly building up toward a climax.

Apparently the Reds feel the drain of a ground war in Korea and must have more air power. Soviet Russia has been supplying more and more air power but not enough to change the course of the ground fighting as yet.

The assumption here is that the Reds are willing to agree to a cease-fire but that they will drive a hard bargain. They know that the matter of inspecting behind the lines is not going to be the sticking point on which a truce would be finally refused by the U.N. They know that the real point at issue is the return of U.N. prisoners. Unless the prisoners are given back, there will be no truce. So the Reds, desiring a truce, will give back as many prisoners as they say they have. Nobody will know whether that's the truth but the agreement will be made to accept whatever prisoners are returned and to insist later on that an accounting be made of what has happened to the others.

The UN negotiators, therefore, may be expected to trade the inspection point for an agreement on the missing prisoners. The line for the armistice has already been agreed upon, so, whenever the prisoner problem is settled, a cease-fire may be expected.

Judging by the attitude of the Communist negotiators, there may be more delays and more haggling but in the end there'll be a truce. Failing a truce, the Communists know an extension of the war to the Chinese mainland is probable. They will learn, too, that, if there is a truce and they break it, a drastic policy will be invoked.

The 12 countries whose troops are in Korea can reach an agreement on broad policy without going back to the UN for authority. For a cease-fire is not a final political settlement, anyway. It is not probable that any questions of a political nature will be submitted to the UN for some months and that, meanwhile, the 12 countries standing guard will observe how the truce is kept.

To meet future contingencies, much reliance will be placed on America's expanding air power. Speeches recently made by Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of the U. S. Air Force, take on considerable significance since it is learned that every one of them was cleared at the White House.

General Vandenberg has been pointing to the Soviet assistance in air power being rendered to the Chinese. He has been emphasizing the importance of strategic air power in getting at bases and factories far away from the battle zone, as distinguished from air supremacy over the battlefields themselves. This could mean a threat to take action not just in Manchuria but also in China proper with the maximum use of American air power on the mainland if the truce is broken or the South Koreans are attacked after the bulk of American troops are withdrawn in the course of the next year or so.

American military strength is growing every month. Russia will have to send a great deal more air power to the Far East than she probably cares to send if she is to match the American air power that will be available if the Communists break the truce or fail to sign the truce now being negotiated.

It all adds up to a stiffened American policy and a determination to fight the Communists in the Far East in areas other than Korea if the big test comes. With new operations against Chinese ports and factories would come a naval blockade and an economic embargo far more rigid than has ever been imposed. The Communists know what's coming if they fail to sign the truce or break the one they sign. That's why a truce is a better than even bet today.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London—As we waited for Mr. Speaker to step off his grandiose progress into the House of Commons, I fell to discussing with one of the Rt. Hon. Gents., a Laborite, or more honestly, a Socialist, a deplorable incident a day or so before. Overwrought in debate, a Socialist brother had put up a noisy row and finally had been "named."

Was it bad to be "named"? Oh, yes, indeed. It is a reproach, always implying disorderly conduct. When one has been "named" just so many times he is expelled and his constituents are left without and agent and, in that sense, disfranchised. My Socialist was a genteel fellow who did not hold with heeling or hitting on the breaks. In fact, he allowed himself a mild sneer at free-for-alls in the French Chamber of Deputies and said it had been a long, long time since any member had socked another in the House of Commons. His timing of this comment was faulty as we shall see. In the last fracas that I could recall in our Commons some ancient cotton-belt slogan took a swing at Ad Sabbath of Chicago for the nonagenarian catchweight title and missed and both were carried out suffering from shock.

"Strangers," meaning the people who elect this August body with its disgraceful element of kept agents of the unions and other moneyed interests are excluded from the daily prayers, a religious gala which, with its measured footwork and bowing this way and that, might have been the basis for the dance of the penguins. However, I invite no comparisons with the official invocations over our lawmakers so like the rapid rigmarole of the radio auctioneer and resented, even so, as a waste of time. I find no reason stated for the exclusion of the people of Britain from the praying which they pay for, but the possibility must always be considered that some ancient queen remarked that it was much too good for them and established a venerable quirk.

The prayer now being over, we strangers climbed 51 steps to a visitors' gallery, a steep bank of long benches looking down on a serio-comic scene of outlandish courtesy mingled with other manners that the cops wouldn't stand for in the Union Station in Kansas City. There is a custom practiced by the noted leaders of both great parties, of sliding down onto the back of the neck and planting the feet against the table on which the mace of royal authority rests on a wooden rack. Winston Churchill, a stubby little fellow, very white now by the way, did not offend this day at least and my measuring eye ruled that he couldn't make the reach.

It was, as I say, not the ideal occasion for my friend, the genteel Socialist, to take a dig at the French chamber for the book-throwing, tripping and kicking which loose their legislative juices. For this was the day that a Socialist lady from Liverpool, a warrior type with the build of a Japanese wrestler, said a Rt. Hon. Gent. on the Tory side had belted her one from behind, and now challenged him to step outside. If he did step outside, the Rt. Hon. Lady said, she would belt him over in two seconds.

The Times solemnly related that Mrs. Bessie Braddock, of Liverpool, "was observed sitting in her place wearing an opera hat to raise a point of order." This is a ritualistic antic which, like love, defies explanation. Down until the First World War, Commons wore plug hats, but nowadays, although there is still no rule against sitting in the chamber with a hat on, it is no longer done. By some process in the meanwhile, a low-comedy opera hat appeared in the House, possibly a prop from an old music hall act, and now custom holds that a member wishing to raise a point of order must find it and clap it on to notify the chair. Thus, we find the robust Mrs. Braddock snorting under the hat to ask "wether it was in order for a member to punch her."

"The Speaker," said the Times, "said it was completely out of order for any member to punch an-

Questions — Answers

Q—What is the name of the African dog which cannot bark?

A—The basenji. They are about 15 inches high and weigh around 23 pounds. In color they run anywhere from shiny jet black to equally bright bay. The tail is curled like a pug's and the face is wrinkled somewhat like a bloodhound's. The coat is short and soft.

Q—What happens when the President of the United States vetoes a bill?

A—It is returned to Congress with a message explaining his objections. To become law, the bill must pass both houses of Congress again, with a two-thirds majority. Few measures command a two-thirds vote to become law over the veto.

Senator to Offer Policy Measure

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—State Senator Enzo Gaspari says he will sponsor legislation to aid insurance policy holders during any strike of insurance workers.

The bill would give the state superintendent of insurance power to extend the grace period on premiums during periods of "emergency such as strikes or any other conditions beyond the control of policy holders."

Gasperi said last night the bill would be made retroactive to Dec. 1, when 10,000-odd Prudential Insurance Company of America agents went on strike in 32 states in a pay dispute.

Gaspari, a Bronx Democrat, said the bill would be introduced in the Legislature in January.

Must Make Application

A Prudential agents' union spokesman said yesterday he had learned that in New Jersey the state insurance commissioner's office advised a group of policy holders that any extension of grace periods could be considered only if the company applied for it.

This word came from Max Shine, international secretary-treasurer of the AFL International Insurance Agents Union.

Prudential, whose home office is in Newark, N. J., has been advising policy holders in advertisements that premiums are payable despite the strike of collection agents. Payment by mail or in person at Prudential offices is urged by the company.

Federal Mediator Thomas G. Dougherty continued efforts yesterday to settle the strike, but no further company-union session was held.

The agents are demanding an increase in the guaranteed base pay from $35 to $55 a week. The company says the agents, who receive commissions, average $99 a week plus $12 weekly in benefits.

Prudential has refused an increase in the base pay, but has offered $3.45 more weekly in commissions and $3.14 in company-paid pensions.

May Cut Bike Output

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—Bicycle production may be cut 50 per cent next year because of reduced steel allotments. Bicycle mangufacturers told National Production Authority officials yesterday their steel quotas for the first quarter of 1952 will require them to slash their output in half. This could mean laying off 40,000 workers, industry spokesmen said. They said they had not been able to get defense contracts to offset the prospective cuts in their regular work.

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization has set dollar and cent retail ceilings for Ford, Mercury and Lincoln passenger cars. The order placed lids on prices of extra equipment sold with the Ford Motor Co. automobiles. The specific ceilings reflect price increases recently allowed by OPS. The OPS also extended from Dec. 20 to Dec. 1 the effective date for auto dealers to tally dollar and cent ceilings for all makes and models of used passenger cars.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail food prices held fairly steady this week, with no notable changes either up or down.

Pork loin roasts, chops and bacon were reduced one to four cents a pound in many places to head the stores' lists of weekend specials.

Butter climbed one to two cents a pound, continuing the seasonal uptrend that began weeks ago.

Eggs prices turned irregular after dropping about 14 cents a dozen in the two weeks following Thanksgiving Day. That price drop was blamed chiefly on warm weather which stimulated production, a seasonal decline in hatchery operations and a sag in demand after Thanksgiving.

"The price drop was sharper than it should have been for the market conditions involved," said a spokesman for the authoritative market reporting firm of Urner-Barry Co. in New York. "Demand picked up briskly when prices hit their low last week, and then wholesale prices bounced up three to seven cents — too much — as jobbers replaced supplies. Retail prices as a whole reacted to a lesser extent and probably will level off just about where they are now, and stay there until after Christmas."

The Agriculture Department says December usually sees the start of the seasonal upswing in egg production which normally hits a peak the following April. Output last month amounted to 4,215 million eggs, compared with 3,977 million in the same month last year.

Produce Prices Ease

Prices of several fresh produce items eased slightly this week. Snap beans, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cucumbers, eggplant, lettuce, peppers, spinach and most citrus fruits were lower. Lettuce and peppers were still unusually high-priced because of light shipments.

Cranberries also were relatively high. Produce men said overall supplies of cranberries appeared to be exceptionally small by comparison with other years.

Higher prices for fresh fruits and vegetables, dairy products, lamb and eggs, were blamed for pushing the government's retail food index to a new record high between November 15 and 26. The index for the eight cities surveyed was up about 2.6 per cent from the previous month and 15 per cent above the average before the Korean war began.

Reaches New Peak

The Agriculture Department reported that meat produced under federal inspection last week reached a new peak for the year at 410 million pounds—10 million over the previous weekly record set last January. Pork output was the largest since 1944 when the biggest pig crop in our history was being marketed.

Price stabilizers hope to have dollars-and-cents ceiling prices established on retail lamb and veal by Jan. 1, and on pork shortly afterward. Wholesale ceilings already are in effect on all these and beef, and retail ceilings on beef have been in effect for some time. Officials of the Office of Price Stabilization said they don't expect much change from present prices in setting the veal, lamb and pork ceilings.

Oranges are featured by the Agriculture Department this week as the most plentiful food for thrifty buying. Production of oranges and tangerines as of Dec. 1 was estimated at 122,325,000 boxes, compared with 121,610,000 last year and the 1940-49 average of 102,986,000 boxes. Total consumption of oranges this year is expected to be about 10 per cent larger than in 1950.

Former Bankhead Maid Identified As Area Resident

The principal figure in the Tallulah Bankhead case is a summer resident of Phoenicia, according to sources there.

Mrs. Evyleen R. Cronin has been living at the Patio Inn with her husband, John J. Cronin, and a daughter, neighbors told a Freeman reporter.

Cpl. Ray Dunn of the state police said a Cronin family had occupied the property for a period of three years, and he belived Mrs. Cronin was the former maid-secretary being sued by the radio star.

Miss Bankhead, 48, blames the woman for raising sums on checks amounting to thousands of dollars.

The charges against Mrs. Cronin, 59, are forgery and grand larceny. Her attorney's motion for a mistrial was denied yesterday.

The Patio Inn is situated on Route 28 midway between Phoenicia and Allaben, Trooper Dunn said, and consists of a grill room and dance hall.

Dunn said the Cronins never operated the grill during the three years of ownership, but that the place was popular as such when the late Joe Berg was proprietor.

Scientists estimate the light of a firefly is 1/400ths candlepower.

Discussion Group Speakers

DR. EUGENE LINK

MRS. EUGENE LINK
(New Paltz College Photos)

Will Talk During Next Week's Panel

Dr. Eugene P. Link, chairman of the social science division at the New Paltz State Teachers College, and his wife, Mrs. Eugene P. Link, psychologist, will be the featured speakers at Monday's meeting of the Monday Evening Discussion Group at the Kingston High School Library.

The meeting, which is open to all interested parents, teachers and youth leaders within the Kingston area, will begin at 8 p. m.

Dr. and Mrs. Link will be presented jointly as leaders of the discussion on Individual Differences, the second topic to be considered in the series on mental hygiene which the group is currently studying in the course on the Child at Home and at School. The Monday Evening Discussion Group is being sponsored by the Adult Education program.

Dr. Link, an authority in his primary field of interest, marriage and family relations, is a former president of the Rocky Mountain Council on family relations; a member of the Board of Directors of the National Council on Family Relations and present secretary of the latter group. He also is author of the Democratic-Republican Societies and has written various papers on the social history of American Medicine.

Mrs. Link, a specialist in child development, assists her husband in teaching courses on marriage and family.

Play Is Planned

Dr. and Mrs. Link have jointly conducted family life workshops and are presenting an annual family life leadership training institute at the college in New Paltz each June. Together they lead and direct the annual marriage and family life study tour to Europe investigating family services in six western countries.

Prior to next Monday's talk and discussion, a short play, Scattered Showers, will be presented. The play centers around the problems of three mothers of young children and the way in which they handled their problems. The characterizations will be enacted by a group of New Paltz students.

The problems set forth in the play will serve as an interesting and stimulating basis for an informal discussion at the conclusion of the program led by Dr. and Mrs. Link with all members participating.

Mrs. Dorothy W. Buehring, member of the School 4 faculty, will be the general chairman at next Monday's panel.

Motor Men Called To Give Testimony

Detroit, Dec. 13 (AP)—Congressional investigators set aside the "five-percenter" phase of their government expenditures inquiry today and called officials of big automotive companies to testify.

Representatives of General Motors, Chrysler, and a number of smaller firms were awaiting calls to the witness stand as a House subcommittee hearing entered its fourth day.

The congressmen, headed by Rep. Porter Hardy (D.-Va.), are examining government procurement policies. Hardy contends the government has spent $305,000,000 more than necessary in the past three years by buying from middlemen instead of basic manufacturers.

Testimony so far has brought out that in numerous cases the basic manufacturers of military vehicle parts have refused to bid on contracts to supply those parts, or have submitted bids far too high to be accepted.

As a result, either assemblers of those parts—sometimes the big auto companies and sometimes middlemen with no production facilities at all—have walked off with a large share of the defense business.

Samuel S. Willis, a manufacturers' representative, told the committee yesterday that "too much red tape" discourages many small manufacturers from attempting to do work directly with the government. They prefer, he said, to let some agent familiar with complex government procedures handle the paper work for them.

"Any small manufacturer who bids without consulting his attorney first is flirting with bankruptcy," said Willis.

A former employe of the army's big Ordnance Tank-Automotive Center (OTAC) said he had made $14,150 in the past six months by obtaining government contracts for a string of clients.

George F. Day, a $6,200-a-year inspector at the center for ten years, said he was paid $10,000 a year from each of two companies and worked on a five per cent commission for several others.

Mildred Bailey Dies in Hospital

Poughkeepsie, Dec. 13 (AP) — Mildred Bailey, whose "Old Rockin' Chair" song made her famous two decades ago, died last night.

The blues singer with the slight, throaty voice—with a special delivery which deeply stirred her listeners—suffered a heart ailment some time ago. She became ill the day before Thanksgiving in Detroit, where she had a night club engagement.

She had been resting at her home in nearby Stormville when stricken again and taken to St. Francis Hospital here. She gave her age as 48.

Part Indian, she was born Mildred Rinker, on a farm near Spokane, Wash.

Her first singing job was at the age of 17, when she plugged hit tunes for $10 a week in a Seattle music store.

Band leader Paul Whiteman heard Miss Bailey singing in a San Francisco restaurant in 1929 and signed her to a contract. Her brother, Al Rinker, was a singing member of the Whiteman band.

Became Star

She immediately became a star, but five years later broke with Whiteman and dropped out of sight.

In 1942, Miss Bailey started a comeback after being persuaded to sing with the band at Cafe Society Downtown in New York's Greenwich Village. She had entered the night club as a guest, but left as an entertainer "on the way back."

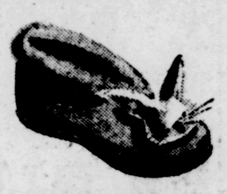

Miss Bailey was a large woman, weighing about 190. Her style of singing, dress and demeanor were quiet but she packed dynamic sentiment into each tune.

She married and divorced Red Norvo, a xylophonist with the Whiteman band. There were no children. Her closest survivors are her brothers, Al and Charles Rinker of California.

As Pegler Sees It

other and, when there were cries of 'name?,' Mrs. Braddock said it was Mr. Colegate, Conservative member for Burton-on-Trent. "Mrs. Braddock described an incident during which, she said, she heard Mr. Colegate having an argument with another member to whom she made a comment, and was immediately pushed on the left shoulder. She added that if it had happened outside, the member concerned would not have been on his feet for two seconds. Mr. Colegate assured Mrs. Braddock that she was mistaken.

Mrs. Braddock then said she would accept an apology and Mr. Colegate assured her that he would withold no words which would help maintain friendly relations between the members. The Express said Mr. Colegate had taken a dig at the nasty manners of Socialists and that one of them, a Mr. Sturmer, the member for Sparbrook, immediately "squared up," presumably for a fight. Mr. Sturmer is only five feet-six and Mr. Colegate is well over six feet. Mrs. Braddock gets measured for width, not height. Her indignation was the worse because someone on the Tory side had muttered "dirty dog" just as she was socked or pushed, if any.

I was warned not to disclose any pen, pencil or note paper in the visitors' gallery. It appears that the taking of notes is the exclusive privilege of the reporters for tme newspapers and for Hansard, the official record, which, by the way, has no such ancient record as I had thought but after a jerky career, often as a very unreliable journal, has now reached a high position. It is still, however, not verbatim but an editorial report in which grammatical slips and repetition are ironed out and "the sense of the speech" is preserved by the reporter. It is, like our Congressional Record, privileged matter for general publication but, unlike the Record, cannot be used by blackguards of the party in power to cover with legislative immunity all manner of dirty aspersions on decent men among the political opposition.

French Assembly Votes to Ratify Schuman Pooling

Paris, Dec. 13 (AP)—The French National Assemebly voted today to ratify the Schuman plan to pool the four billion dollar coal and steel industries of six west European nations.

The Council of the Republic, the consultative Upper House of Parliament, now must approve the bill before President Vincent Auriol can formally ratify the treaty. No difficulty is expected there.

The Netherlands is the only nation so far to ratify the plan. The four other governments which agreed to the plan are West Germany, Italy, Beligum and Luxembourg.

Communists and the right wing followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle voted today against ratification, which was approved by votes of 377 to 235, and 377 to 233.

Votes of Confidence

Premier Rene Pleven made today's two ballots votes of confidence in his government. Had he lost, he would have had to resign and make way for a new premier to wade through France's touchy political tangle in search of a cabinet.

The first vote was on the principle of ratification. Then came approval of the ratification bill itself.

In both cases the "Yeas" were considerably more than the 310 votes which would be needed later to override any rejection by the upper council.

The heavy industries of the six countries which have endorsed the plan annually produce 40,000,000 tons of steel and 225,000,000 tons of coal.

They had sought to win British adherence to the plan, but the British rejected it. Britain produces 16,000,000 tons of steel and about 215,000,000 tons of coal annually.

Ambulance Drivers Insist on Doctors On Maternity Calls

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—Three ambulance drivers at Beth David Hospital refused to answer maternity call for an hour today until the hospital agreed to assign a physician to such cases, the institution reported.

Harold Salkin, executive director of the hospital, said he was informed at 1 a. m. that the drivers of Beth David's three ambulances had served notice that they felt unequipped to handle maternity calls and could not answer them unless accompanied by a doctor.

At 2 a. m. a physician was assigned to go along on maternity cases and the situation returned to normal. There had been only one maternity call in the meantime. It was returned over to Reception Hospital.

The action was not a "walkout," since the drivers remained available for calls of other types, and there was no union involved, the hospital said.

National Court Will Honor 14 Boy Scouts

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—The National Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts will honor 13 scouts and a leader who saved the lives of others.

There will be ceremonies in their home communities at which medals will be awarded to eleven—one posthumously—and certificates to three.

Among the award winners, announced last night by George J. Fisher, national scout commissioner, were these New York state residents.

Medals of Merit for meritorious action — William Curley and George Hayden, both of North Bellmore, N. Y.

Certificate for Heroism—Peter Salato, Cayuga, N. Y.

Hayden and Curley rescued Ralph Meyer from six feet of water last June 2 and then successfully administered artificial respiration.

Salato Jumped into Cayuga Lake last May 22 and saved his younger brother, Richard, who had fallen from a pier.

Average ranch in Cherry county, Nebr., contains about 3,500 acres, or about five and one-half miles.

Emotional Honesty

Los Angeles, (AP)—Don't reprimand little Johnny if he says that he hates baby brothers, says a University of California psychologist. Dr. Nort Weckler, a member of the university teaching staff, says this may help Johnny cultivate emotional honesty. Telling Johnny that he is naughty for talking like that and that he should love baby because he is his brother may also cause Johnny to disguise, rather than change, his true feelings. If Johnny is allowed to get his anger out of his system without fear of punishment, his parents will be able to know how he really feels and be in a better position to help him feel differently, Dr. Weckler said.

Davis, Hottest Jet Ace, Bags 12 Planes in 16 Days

Fifth Air Force, Korea, Dec. 13 (AP) — Twelve Communist planes shot down in just 16 days—that's the record chalked up by America's hottest jet ace, Maj. George A. Davis, Jr., of Lubbock, Tex.

Davis bagged four Communist MIGs today in two slashing air battles over North Korea. That boosted his MIG kill to nine, three more than Maj. James A. Jabara shot down to set the previous record before he returned to the U. S. last spring. Davis also has bagged three Red TU-2 bombers, probably destroyed one MIG and damaged one TU-2 and one MIG.

All told, American jet pilots knocked down 13 Red jets and probably destroyed two and damaged one today—the biggest all-jet victory in history.

Calm After Battles

Davis was calm and unexcited after today's historic battles.

"Yeah, I went up twice today," he said. "This morning's flight is a little bit old now. We were just north of the Sinanju river when we saw a flight of about 50 MIGs.

"I just led my 12 planes into the middle of them.

"I got one right away. After a couple of bursts he went into a spin and bailed out. We fought awhile until we got low on fuel—my wing man and I. One MIG came in firing at us from 8 o'clock. We broke and made three or four turns. When I was just about to get behind him to fire, he broke off and went into a long dive. Then he pulled up into a loop.

"I was about 600 feet behind him and we both were over on our backs and I gave him a good burst. He started smoking and burning and went down. The pilot didn't get out."

Gets Two MIGs

Davis' adjutant, Capt. Theodore S. Coberly, of Seattle, bagged his first two MIGs this afterpoon.

"I was leading Maj. Davis' element," he said, "and as I maneuvered in behind a squadron of MIGs—there were 10 of them—I took up a position on the left side of them. As Davis closed in within 600 feet I opened up on one of the 10, and after a two second burst it exploded and what was left went into a dive.

"I then moved in to about 600 feet on one of the leaders and gave him a long burst. His airplane began to burn and peel off into a spin and the pilot bailed out."

Coberly said it was all over in about 20 seconds.

Davis' record of 12 planes in 16 days is all the more unusual because on each of his victory days he has bagged at least two Red planes.

On Nov. 28 he knocked down his first two MIGs. Two days later he bagged three TU-2s and a MIG. Then on Dec. 5 he got two more MIGs and today added four more.

Students Discuss Emotional Cases With Health Nurses

An unusual request was recently made of the nursing division of the Ulster County Health Department by Kingston High School where a new class called "Family Life Education" has been formed for a group of sophomore students.

The subjects of English, social science and health are taught to the students in this core curriculum. The nursing division was requested by the teachers to meet with the students to discuss the emotional problems arising from illness in a family situation. Committees from each of the three divisions of this class interviewed three public health nurses at the Health Department office asking many questions regarding the effect the various diseases such as heart disease, cancer, tuberculosis, rheumatic fever and poliomyelitis had on family relationships.

Profitable Meeting

Following these interviews, the public health nurses met with the entire 90 students, presented a film, and then carried on a group discussion.

The students gained considerable information and understandings from these meetings on family relationships and became aware of the functions of the various members of the Ulster County Health Department. Not only did the students derive a great deal from these discussions, but all members of the nursing division that participated in the program gained a better understanding of this new class being taught at the high school and some insight into the behavior of a young adolescent group of students.

Has Two Uses!

Use this pattern in two different ways. Make the top and skirt as illustrated. She can mix them with other favorites. Then sew a long-sleeved version of the top for a jacket. Make it in a new heavy wool, or you can use fabric from a discarded garment.

Pattern 9315 comes in Children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, 10. Size 6 takes 2⅝ yards 35-inch fabric.

This easy-to-use pattern gives perfect fit. Complete, illustrated Sew Chart shows you every step.

Send THIRTY cents in coins for this pattern to Marian Martin, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, 73 Pattern Dept., 232 West 18th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

CommitteesNamed For 'Brigadoon' By Rotary Club

Herbert Greenwald of Greenwald's Travel Service was the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon-meeting Wednesday. His topic was Mexico, where the annual sessions of Rotary International will be held next May.

Following an interesting description of the many attractions there and an amazing account of what the American dollar can buy, Greenwald showed a motion picture on Mexico.

Announcement was made by President Dykstra that at next Wednesday's luncheon Senator Arthur H. Wicks would be made an honorary member of the Kingston Rotary Club.

Arrangements are being completed for the presentation of the musical, Brigadoon at the Kingston High School Auditorium, Feb. 12. There will be a matinee for high school students and an evening performance.

Proceeds from the musical will go toward the welfare fund of the Kingston Rotary Club.

Committee members are as follows:

General—Samuel Trull, chairman, Larry Bogert, Edward Lefren, Ernest Steuding, Robert Case, Howard Shurter, James Connelly.

DiSalle Is Cautious

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—Price Controller Michael V. DiSalle, looking back on his first full year in a rough job, found reason for some cautious optimism today. "There is every hope," he said in an anniversary statement, "that a complete structure will soon be in place to resist successfully the inflationary pressures that will continue to develop as our defense effort continues to expand." There are "still many rough spots ahead," DiSalle said. But he added "the work done over the past year will stand the nation in good stead." The rotund Ohioan's comment on how the 12 months went: "It certainly seems longer."

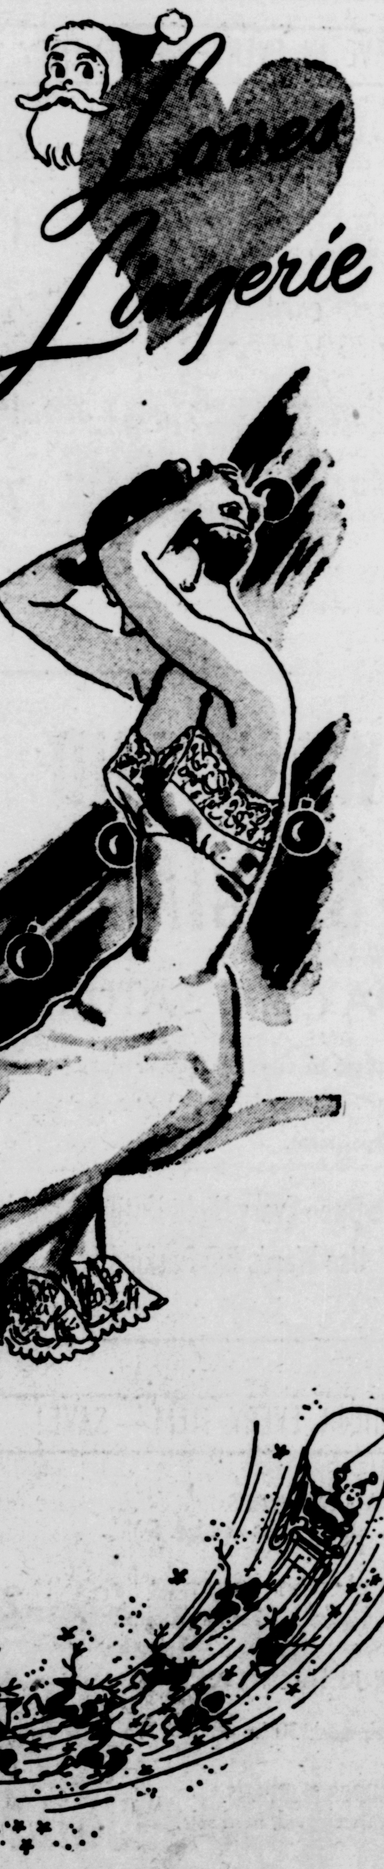

Ready by 1954

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—The navy expects to have its atom-powered submarine ready in 1954. The keel of the craft, which may revolutionize undersea warfare, is expected to be laid next spring. The Electric Boat Co. of Groton, Conn., has the contract. The Atomic Energy Commission, Westinghouse Electric Corp. and Argonne National Laboratory are jointly designing the craft's atomic engine. There are unofficial estimates the nuclear-powered submarine may reach underwater speeds of more than 30 knots.

Wants to Know Facts

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) pressed today to end nine years of secrecy which veil the findings in a government report to the White House on the stormy affairs of Empire Ordnance Co. of Philadelphia. Nixon made public a letter to President Truman asking for a copy of the Securities and Exchange Commission report, drawn originally in 1942 on orders from the late President Roosevelt. The Californian said he wanted a Senate probe of the report and of relations between Democratic National Chairman Frank F. McKinney and Frank Cohen, who headed the Empire firm. McKinney made a "6,800 per cent profit" on a deal involving stock of the Empire Tractor Corp., a sister of the ordnance firm, Nixon's letter said.

American Films Assailed

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP)—American-made "gangster films," war pictures and motion-picture cheese-cake may go off Indonesian screens—if two prominent Indonesian parliament members have their way. Dr. Soenario, chairman of parliament's Foreign Affairs Section, wanted the government to ban films glorifying war and "a certain political ideology." He feared these films hampered the establishment of world peace in general and the pursuance of Indonesia's independent foreign policy in particular. In addition he pointed out that American gangster films endanger national morality.

THE SONGS OF CHRISTMAS

Illustrated by Walt Scott

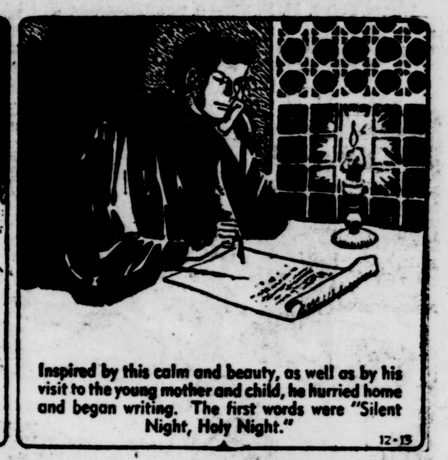

It was far from a tranquil Christmas Eve that night in 1818. Outside a blizzard raged. Inside the Alpine home the young priest, Joseph Mohr, gave his blessing to a new-born babe.

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

On his way home from his mission the wind died down and the storm stopped. The moon came out and stars twinkled in the sky.

Inspired by this calm and beauty, as well as by his visit to the young mother and child, he hurried home and began writing. The first words were "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Wood Sculptor

Hunts Point, N. S. (AP)—A newsman who turned from copy cutting in the United States to whittling in Nova Scotia has become one of Canada's ablest sculptors in wood. He is John Greenleaf Whittier Bradford and from his hands come such exquisitely carved and finished objects of art that his creations have been shown in museums from New York to Vancouver, and in such way-points as Toronto, Montreal and Quebec. In World War 1, John Bradford was a flier in France. Then he became a newspaper man. He returned to his native Nova Scotia with his wife, Lexie, and at Hunts Point set up a combined home, studio and shop 12 years ago.

Still Opposes Lotteries

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 13 (AP)—Governor Dewey vows he'll fight any move to amend the state constitution to permit New York city to conduct lotteries. Dewey rejected yesterday the New York City Council's proposal that the state permit city-wide lotteries to raise funds for hospital and medical needs. His secretary, James C. Hagerty, said Dewey had not changed his position since he denounced a proposal by former Mayor William O'Dwyer that the state legalize betting on all sporting events. The governor called O'Dwyer's plan "shocking, immoral and indecent." Dewey's rejection of the council request drew quick approval from the council's new president, Rudolph Halley.

Steel Industry Buzzes

Pittsburgh, Dec. 13 (AP)—Philip Murray's sudden call for a meeting of the Big CIO United Steelworkers Union's top policy makers has the steel industry buzzing today about possible outcome of contract negotiations. Murray emerged from a 2½-hour session with U. S. Steel Corp. representatives yesterday and announced his negotiators will meet Monday with the USW executive board and wage policy committee.

Hanoi, Indochina (AP)—This key city in Northern Indochina—now having a population estimated at about 500,000—has an unusual distinction—it lacks taxicabs. The big reason is said to be the difficulty of keeping a fleet of cabs supplied with oil and gasoline, which has to be transported from the northeastern port city of Haiphong. The gasoline is needed to run the French and Vietnamese war machine in its operations against the Communist-led Vietminh forces.

Penney Loses 31 Calves in Blaze

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 13 (AP)—Thirty-one purebred Guernsey calves in the prize herd of chain-store tycoon J. C. Penney burned to death early today in a $200,000 fire.

The cause of the fire was not known.

William K. Hepburn, manager of the 1,000-acre farm at nearby Hopewell Junction, estimated the loss.

Hepburn said the fire apently started in the large barn that housed the 31 calves. The fire also destroyed a second barn, two storage sheds and a quantity of farm machinery and equipment.

Inadequate water supply hampered efforts of firemen from Hopewell Junction, Beekman, Stormville and New Hackensack.

Penney, founder and president of the chain of J. C. Penney variety stores, recently had announced the gift of the farm and herd to the University of Missouri for breeding studies. Transfer of the property reportedly still is in progress.

Plane Lost in Fog On Field Two Hours

London, Dec. 13 (AP)—Ground crewmen at London Airport had to grope through pea soup fog for two hours last night before they could find a big Air France plane landed from Paris with 39 passengers.

Within seconds after the French plane landed, swirling mists cut visibility to 15 yards and the pilot was ordered to keep his ship on the taxi-way.

For the next two hours five search parties in coaches, tractors and a fire truck equipped with a two-way radio, hunted for the plane.

Finally the fire truck driver, using the radio, found the craft and guided the coaches to the passengers.

The rescued travelers had to wait several more hours for their baggage—the luggage trucks also got lost.

But the long delay wasn't too bad. One passenger, returning from her Paris honeymoon, explained—"We drank champagne and played cards."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Speicher, Bellows Works on Display

Woodstock, Dec. 13—Two nationally famous artists who are represented in the current show of drawings, etchings and lithographs at the Mollie Smith Gallery, are having one-man shows of their paintings in New York. Eugene Speicher's retrospective show, containing work covering a period of many years, opened Dec. 5 at the Century Club, attended by a number of his Woodstock friends.

The other artist, whose name has become synonymous with Woodstock the art colony, is the late George Bellows whose exhibition of paintings opened Tuesday at the H. V. Allison & Co. Galleries, 32 East 57th street, New York, with a reception from 4 to 7 p. m. Included in the show is his large canvas The Crucifixion which has not been on public view in New York since the Bellows Memorial Exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum in 1925. This, one of Bellow's most famous works was painted in Woodstock in 1923. The artist considered it one of his most important paintings and said "I hope it will be liked as I have given it all I know."

The lithographs by Bellows now on view at the gallery here include Splinter Beach, Anne in Black Hat, and Emma, Elsie and Gene.

The gallery will be open every Friday and Saturday night until Christmas.

Awards Won by Shokan Cattery

Woodstock, Dec. 13 — At the championship cat show of the Genesee Cat Fanciers Club, Rochester, the Bonnie Brae Cattery in Shokan, of which Miss Lydia M. Scott is the owner, won several awards. Miss Scott is a frequent visitor to this village and a member of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen.

Miss Scott's prize cat, Bonnie Brae Sealskin Tippy, a female seal point Siamese, was judged Best Seal Point Siamese in the All Breed Show. There were 160 entries from New York, New Jersey, Long Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Canada. Bonnie Brae Sealskin Tippy took the honors from an imported Siamese from England who was judged Best Opposite Sex. The Bonnie Brae Cattery at Shokan is therefore justly proud of its latest victory by one of its own bred cats.

Bonnie Brae Sealskin Tippy has been collecting a number of ribbons recently and is a near champion. Likewise her cattery playmate Bonnie Brae Tut Sa, a blue point Siamese who accompanied her to Rochester is a near champion also having won a Winners ribbon at Rochester, adding to her collection of champion points.

Miss Scott believes in quality breeding, not quantity. She has extended an invitation to all cat lovers to visit the cattery at any time.

Tallulah Stays Away From Court

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—A neck-craning crowd of about 150 people lined court house corridors today to watch actress Tallulah Bankhead arrive at the trial of her former maid-secretary — but Tallulah didn't show.

Most of them wandered off disappointedly after court attendants made known that the actress would not appear until she is summoned as a witness.

Inside the jam-packed court room, the fourth day of the trial of Mrs. Evyleen R. Cronin, 59, the ex-secretary, got underway. She is charged with grand larceny and forgery.

A one-time vaudeville dancer, she allegedly raised sums on Miss Bankhead's checks amounting to thousands of dollars.

Her attorney moved unsuccessfully yesterday, and again today, for a mistrial. The attorney also sought to get a contempt show-cause order against Miss Bankhead's attorney at the start of today's session, but failed.

Defense Attorney Fred G. Moritt claimed that Miss Bankhead's attorney, Donald Seawell, last night discussed the case on a program televised by station WPIX in a manner prejudicial to Mrs. Cronin.

He said Seawell asserted on the program: " 'It is a shame the way the defense is smearing Tallulah Bankhead's name'." This Moritt said, "might persuade public opinion against" Mrs. Cronin.

Judge Harold E. Stevens denied Moritt's motion that the court order Seawell to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt.

The prosecution then called Bernard Dolgin, an accountant in the district attorney's office, to the stand. He said he helped in the investigation that led to Mrs. Cronin's indictment.

Four Persons Die

loud explosion. I walked toward the noise and saw everything in God's creation floating down Main street."

The tank was one of several supplying the 11,000 residents of this eastern New Mexico town. Its collapse left Tucumari without water.

"I don't know what we'll do in case of fire," Rogal said.

There also was a brief power failure immediately afterwards.

Engineers said the tank did not explode and definitely was not overloaded or under excessive pressure. Several persons in the vicinity told of seeing a blue flash along the ground seconds before the collapse. The engineers said this might have been an indication of escaping gas.

Ellenville Firm Razed by Fire at Early Hour Today

A two-alarm fire this morning completely destroyed the Northeastern Woodworking Novelty Company building on Route 209, south of Ellenville.

Volunteer firemen from the village saved nearby houses and Van Gorder Garage, still under construction.

Many lines of hose were strung in precaution against spread of the flames to surrounding property including a service station with oil trucks parked on the property, firemen said.

Cause of the fire, for which alarms were sounded at 6:30 a. m. and 6:40 o'clock, has not been determined, neither has the exact amount of the loss.

Observers said flames were fed by shavings in the building of the woodworking firm, which was of concrete block and wood construction.

The flames spread through the plant so rapidly there was no chance of saving it, fire officials said, therefore all of the volunteers available devoted their efforts to checking spread of the fire to surrounding properties.

A spokesman for the woodworking firm said a large order of meat blocks was being completed for the government.

Fire Damages Building at Camp

A fire of undetermined origin damaged the two and a half story main building at Camp Kingston, Port Ewen, Wednesday afternoon.

Loss, mostly from the intense heat within the closed building, was tentatively estimated at between $7,000 and $9,000, according to Fire Chief Edward F. Mains of Port Ewen.

The fire apparently started in a stairway and burned up to the attic floor, where it was stopped from burning through the roof by the insulation. The building contained an attached dining hall.

The camp, with a capacity of 60 boys and girls, is owned by A. L. Schulman. It was not occupied at the time of the fire.

Flames were first seen by employes of Hercules Powder Company, nearby, during their lunch hour, Chief Mains reported.

At 2:52 p. m., Chief Mains requested assistance through mutual aid, and Engine 2 from Cornell station in Kingston was dispatched, with Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford, Albert Hutton, Joseph Miles and Howard Whitaker.

State police BCI men have been asked to investigate the cause of the blaze, Chief Mains said today.

Naster Says Story

who had earlier called the shakedown account "a vicious lie."

Claimed Influence

Teitelbaum, a Chicago attorney who once helped spring Al Capone from prison, has told the committee that Nathan and Naster claimed influence with a "clique" of Washington tax-fixers.

One of those described as being a member of the clique, Teitelbaum said, was Charles Oliphant, who resigned last week as chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau. Oliphant, who denounced the charges as "base and scurrilous," was scheduled to testify before the committee later.

Naster told the committee today that Nathan called him about 11:20 p. m. one night last July from New York.

"Nathan said Teitelbaum or somebody, was saying that Nathan was asking Teitelbaum for $500,000, and what did I know about it," Naster said. "I said what do you know about it, I don't know anything about it."

"I said why are you calling me about it. I said that's silly, how can anything like that happen?"

Telephoned Naster

Previously, Nathan testified he telephoned Naster on that occasion to tell him that Mrs. Shryl Menkin—sometimes identified as Mrs. Teitelbaum—had called him late one night "screaming and hollering" about Naster wanting $125,000 or $175,000 from Teitelbaum.

Nathan's testimony was that he called Naster back and asked what it was all about.

He quoted Naster as saying Teitelbaum had asked him for advice in his tax case and that he had suggested a lawyer, who Nathan thought was Paul Dillon of St. Louis.

Naster today testified he had never talked with Mrs. Menkin except on one social occasion when he and his wife accompanied Teitelbaum and Mrs. Menkin to a club in Miami.

He denied flatly ever suggesting to anyone to get a lawyer, as Nathan alleged.

Since the telephone call in July, Naster said, he had seen Nathan only once. That, he related, was when Nathan drove out to Naster's plant in Hollywood, Fla., where Nathan's son was working.

He has been "at odds" with Nathan since then, Naster said, because Nathan disappointed him in promises to help get scarce materials and finances.

Caffery Renews His Consultations

Cairo, Egypt, Dec. 13 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery renewed consultations with Egypt's acting Foreign Minister Ibrahim Farag Pasha today in a reported effort to avert a diplomatic break between Egypt and Britain.

Caffery called on Farag for the third time in six days. Reliable informants said all the talks concerned the Egyptian government's proposal to recall its ambassador to London, Abdel Fattah Amr Pasha.

The government threatened to break off with Britain after British army engineers destroyed an Egyptian village last weekend to make way for a military road near Suez city.

Caffery was reliably reported to have advised strongly against a formal rupture with Britain, whose troops Egypt is trying to force out of the Suez Canal Zone and the Sudan.

Egyptian newspapers reported that British troops were planning to destroy a second village in the canal zone, this time near Ismailia. A British spokesman denied the reports "categorically."

Meanwhile, Egyptian snipers are continuing terroristic attacks by night, a British official said. He reported that a British military truck driver was shot and killed near Nefisha while returning northward to Camp Moascar last night with an escort of two jeeps.

Missionary Cut Tongue to Evade Chinese Reds

Milan, Italy, Dec. 13 (AP)—A Catholic missionary said today he cut off the tip of his tongue with a razor blade rather than reveal names of Chinese Catholics to Communists who threatened to torture him.

The missionary is Father Alfeo Emaldi, who said he was questioned on Nov. 16 by Chinese Reds while serving as chaplain at Tietsin Hospital.

Father Emaldi is a member of the Saveriano Institute for Foreign Missions at Desio, near here, where he is now recovering from his ordeal.

The priest said in an interview that he cut his tongue twice during a three-minute period the Communists had given him to make up his mind.

The razor cuts produced a hemorrhage which, the priest said, forced his inquisitors to end the interview.

Then they ordered his expulsion from China.

No Cause Verdict Returned in Case Of Truck Mishap

A "no cause" verdict was returned Wednesday evening by the jury which heard the evidence in the negligence action brought by Joseph Levine against the S. A. Healy Company.

Levine sued to recover damages to a truck, trailer and load of poles which tipped over on Route 55 in April 1949 when the driver turned off to avoid a collision with a Healy Company tractor and trailer hauling steel to the Lackawack dam project.

The shoulder of the road gave way and the load dropped into a gully along the road. Plaintiff contended the accident had been caused by the driver of the Healy vehicle, which he alleged came over a hill on the wrong side of the road.

Defendant's driver testified he was operating his vehicle on his own side of the road and there was ample space to pass and both vehicles did pass without coming into contact. The Healy driver did not know of the accident until some time after, his vehicle having passed the Levine truck before it went over the bank.

The case was submitted to the jury at 5:40 and an hour later the no cause for action verdict was returned.

Kooperman & Kooperman appeared for the plaintiff and Judge John M. Cashin and Arthur B. Ewig appeared for the defendant company.

McGrath Given Machine, Report

Philadelphia, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Philadelphia Inquirer said last night that Attorney General J. Howard McGrath received a $395,-reducing machine in 1949 from an Austrian munitions maker whose application for citizenship was in the hands of the Justice Department.

The Inquirer said the machine, a species of stationary bicycle, was ordered by Antoine Gazda of Providence, R. I., who had been seized and held three months by the Federal Bureau of Investigation after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

The newspaper reported that the reducing machine was delivered to McGrath in Washington by James Caskey, of Collingswood, N. J., a salesman for Exercycle of Philadelphia, Inc., the distributor.

A Senate bill to shorten the waiting period for Gazda and his wife was introduced by Sen. Theodore F. Green (D.-R.I.) Jan. 24, 1949 when McGrath was the second senator from Rhode Island. The bill was not passed.

McGrath became attorney general Aug. 24, 1949.

Taken by FBI

The Inquirer said two days after Pearl Harbor the Gazdas were taken by the FBI to Ellis Island as enemy aliens. It said McGrath vouched for their "security" and they were released under guard until given a clean bill of health in March, 1942.

Gazda, who is 56, came to the United States from Switzerland in 1940. He brought exclusive American rights to the Swiss-developed Oerlikon cannon and established the American Oerlikon Gazda Corp. The Inquirer said it was reported he sold $75,000,000 worth of guns to the United States.

The Inquirer stated also that in 1946 Gazda gave $500 to McGrath's senatorial campaign, and that earlier, when McGrath became U. S. solicitor general and went to Washington, the Gazdas moved into the senator's 10-room town house in Providence.

Two years ago Gazda bought the house from McGrath, the newspaper related.

In Washington, McGrath could not be reached immediately for comment.

President Promises

who was Caudle's boss, told the House investigators only last Tuesday that he personally never had any suspicions against Caudle.

Mr. Truman replied crisply that he doesn't keep the books for his attorney general.

The President was asked if McKinney had been correct in telling reporters earlier this week that the President feels he has been "sold down the river" by federal employes who have proved faithless to their trust.

Who Wouldn't? He Says

Well, who wouldn't feel that way? the President said.

He went on to say that he has been a firm fighter for clean government ever since his first election to public office in 1922.

He declined to say what sort of special agency he might set up to police the federal service.

Told there were reports that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover might head such a body, Mr. Truman would not comment.

Pressed as to when he would act, Mr. Truman told the reporters to have a little patience—that they would learn something later in the week.

He said that if he does set up such a body it will be his own kind of committee and not one patterned after some special government units that have been set up in the past.

He recalled laughingly that there has been a Truman committee before, meaning the War Production Investigating Committee that he headed while a U. S. senator.

The President was asked how it happened that officials like those recently dismissed got into the government service in the first place.

He said he didn't know. He asked if anybody could explain how it is that some people who are employed by banks steal money from the banks.

Ontario and Quebec are Canada's leading fur-producing provinces.

Boykin Says He Was Aiding Constituent Only in Matter

Thomasville, Ala., Dec. 13 (AP)—Rep. Frank W. Boykin (D-Ala.) says he was only helping a constituent when he introduced W. P. Stutts, now involved in an alleged $800,000 bank shortage, to the RFC.

The congressman's name was mentioned when the 45-year-old south Alabama lumberman and two officials of Thomasville's only bank were arrested by the FBI yesterday.

Stutts Lumber Industries, Inc., of which Stutts is president and owner, holds a timber cutting contract on Boykin family property near McIntosh, Ala.

The Department of Justice was asked by RFC Administrator W. Stuart Symington three months ago to investigate alleged irregularities in a $455,758 loan to the number firm.

Symington told a Washington news conference last September that the RFC had reason to believe there were misstatements of fact and other irregularities in the loan.

Used to Aid Bank

He said more than $300,000 of the loan had been used to "bail out" the Thomasville Bank and Trust Company.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said an investigation showed Stutts received the benefit of $700,000 of the total bank shortage through illegal extensions of credit.

At Mobile, Rep. Boykin said yesterday he had introduced Stutts and another representative of the lumber company to an RFC director. He said in a statement:

"The smaller war plants and RFC made three loans to the W. P. Stutts Lumber Co., before I ever knew they (The Stutts Lumber Co.) had a loan.

"At the request of Clifton Gilmore, representing the Stutts Lumber Co., I introduced Mr. Gilmore and Mr. Stutts to one of the directors of the RFC (Harley Hise) who sent men to Thomasville to make an investigation and they later made a loan to the lumber company.

"I did for them exactly what I would do for any constituent. Mr. Stutts and R. Gilmore did their own talking to the RFC and I was with them just a few minutes.

"I understand the Stutts Lumber Co. has paid off the RFC loan.

"Not one cent of money ever borrowed by them from RFC was ever paid to us • • •."

J. Moody Drinkard, 47, president of the Thomasville Bank, and Mrs. Myrtie N. McCrory, 48, cashier, were charged with making false entries in bank records.

Stutts was charged with misapplication of bank funds in violation of the Federal Reserve Act.

Mrs. McCrory and Stutts were arraigned before the U. S. commissioner in Birmingham and released in $10,000 bond each. They declined comment. Drinkard, who was reported to be ill, was to be arraigned later.

The arrests resulted from a tip by the Senate Special Investigating Subcommittee headed by Senator Hoey (D.-N.C.) Senate sources said.

Newburgh, Ravena

liamson reserved decision on the objection, stating he would make a ruling after the railroad submitted its further exhibits.

Included in the exhibits were figures showing the passenger earnings for the two trains during the months of August and September. Tompkins testified that the earnings for express, mail or any other income was not included.

$2.92 Per Trip

From revenue passengers, train No. 19 received an average of $2.92 per trip between Sept. 1 and Sept. 29, 1951, the exhibit showed.

The same train carried no revenue passengers between Newburgh and Ravena on 12 days in September and on eight days in August, 1951. Train 6 did not carry any revenue passengers between Albany and Newburgh on five days in August, exhibits showed.

The hearing recessed for lunch at 12 noon and was scheduled to resume at 1:30 p. m.

Seven Officials Indicted in Race Riots Near Chicago

Chicago, Dec. 13 (AP)—The village president of suburban Cicero and six other persons were indicted today by a federal grand jury which investigated race rioting in Cicero last summer.

The village president is Harry J. Sandusky.

The others indicted are Chief Edwin Konovsky of the Cicero police; Theodore H. Weslowski, chief of the fire department; Police Sgt. Roland Brani, Policeman Frank Janecek, Policeman Frank A. Lange and Village Attorney Nicholas Berkos.

The federal grand jury began its investigation Nov. 5 after a Cook county grand jury had investigated the disorders earlier.

The sporadic riots lasted nearly three days in July and resulted in the calling out of the Illinois National Guard.

The disorder stemmed from efforts Harvey Cleark, Jr., a Negro bus driver, to move his family into an all white suburb.

The indictment charged the defendants conspired to deprive Clark of his constitutional rights and also violated the civil rights statutes.

Rosin is the amber liquid which exudes from trees, especially when damaged; resin is the solid, brittle form of the same substance.

The Mature Parent

Rules For Our Children Must Fit Special Needs

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The red taffeta "formal" has been worn only twice.

When the front door bell rings, she yells excitedly from upstairs, "I can't find your fur coat, mother!"

We call, "It's in my closet staring you in the face"—and open the door to the boy in the dinner jacket. She comes flying down the stairs and as she slips our fur coat over her shoulders, we say, "Remember, you two, we expect Jill home no later than 1:30."

The radiance in two young faces goes out like a lamp in the wind. She cries, "Oh, mother, please—just tonight! Make it 2:30! It's our first hotel party! Oh, mother . . . "

From the chair across the room where her father is reading the paper comes the welcome, supporting baritone, "You heard what your mother said, Jill. Get along and stop arguing . . . "

So the door closes and the two young creatures get along — but somehow we feel a little uncomfortable. We say uneasily, "If I begin to make exceptions to rules, I'll never come to the end of them . . . "

This could be our reason. We could, however, have others. It could be that seeing her looking so grownup, so self-sufficient in her red taffeta that we can't resist the temptation to show her that she isn't —that she's still a child under orders and must obey them. It could be that looking at her, the beautiful child standing where we can never stand again, we are a litle jealous of the joys that lie ahead of her, waiting to be experienced.

Because what we have done is neither kind nor wise.

If this nation saw fit to amend the constitution to the changing needs of its people, we should not consider ourselves weak and ineffective parents if we occasionally amend a home law to fit a special need of children.

Some time ago, I sat in on a hearing of a case in New York city's Family Court. When a husband protested a ruling that increased his allotment to a separated wife and child, the gavel was rapped sharply on the bench.

Leaning across it, the white-haired judge said, "Young man, this court decides on the affairs of human life. As human life is not static, but undergoes change, the justice of this court adjusts to change in human affaairs."

MAKE THE AMENDMENTS BEFORE BEING ASKED

Yes, I know our youngsters sometimes try to exploit leniency in date deadlines. But the answer is not in maintaining the inflexible deadline, but clearly defining the exception we are making to the rule.

We would have been kinder and wiser to say to Jill at the door, "Now I am extending your deadline to 2:30 tonight, because I want you to have as much of this fun as you can. But in return, I want you to tell me you clearly understand that the old rule goes back into effect until it's time to make this 2:30 deadline permanent."

If I know anything about Jill, she will say, "Yes, I understand, mother." If I know anything about her, she will not try to exploit our leniency. Across her face will flash that special look of love — and when the door closes, the house will not seem suddenly joyless. We will not be uneasy. We will not be a little ashamed of ourselves.

Justice requires us to amend our rules for children as often as we adjust our clothing to fit growing arms and legs. We should not only make regular amendments to our domestic constitutions, but amend them before we are asked to.

The time and thought we give to making a new decision on a date deadline before we are asked to make it will bring us big returns. The rewards will be in trust and appreciation from our child, who knows that her special needs are not only met, but met before she is aware of them herself.

'Well-Meaning Citizen'

Lisbon, Portugal, Dec. 13 (AP)—Sen. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., (D-Mass.) last night described Portugal's Premier Antonio De Oliveria Salazar as "a well meaning world citizen." He asserted that relations between the United States and Portugal are based on sound understanding of mutual advantages. Martin and Rep. Leonard Hall (R-N.Y.) were guests at the home of Salazar.

To Get O'Dwyer Testimony

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—All testimony given by Ex-Mayor William O'Dwyer to a Brooklyn grand jury in its probe of gambling and graft has been released to the New York State Crime Commission. The commission also will get a look at the testimony of Chief Magistrate John M. Murtagh, who was city commissioner of investigation under O'Dwyer. Release of the secret testimony was ordered yesterday by Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz, a spearhead of the jury's two-year inquiry. District Attorney Miles F. McDonald, who has guided the probe, said the crime commission asked for the testimony.

Dickinson Approved

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—The National Security Resources Board (NSRB) said yesterday the appointment of Edward T. Dickinson as a member of the National Security Council's senior staff has been approved by President Truman. Dickinson, presently vice chairman of the board, succeeds Gilbert C. Jacobus, who will serve as deputy director of special security programs. Dickinson, a resident of Garden City, N. Y., became vice chairman last October 31. Previously he was in the office of the secretary of the air force, handling the development of air bases.

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

"The Big Wind" as written up n the Saturday Evening Post of Nov. 24, 1951, by Roger Butterfield is interesting as it gives the reader an insight in what can be collected by those who are insured. The storm they talk about happened Nov. 25, 1950 which did not hit us in Ulster county so bad as did the floods. Here's a good one: 'Not long after the storm an insurance adjuster went to a Brooklyn housewife who showed him a broken skylight. Through it she said, the wind grabbed her best dress and carried it up in the sky, and she never saw it again. The adjuster weakly replied to that story. 'I believe you, lady,' he sighed heavily. 'Nobody would have the nerve to dream up a story like that. We'll settle for your dress.'"

You might have heard much about the popular notion that tall buildings sway in every strong wind. During very windy days in New York I have closely watched some buildings and even thought I did see them sway. This article tells how a few years ago technicians from the American Iron and Steel Institute made lengthy experiments with plumb lines running down 80 floors of the Empire State. All they could report was that the building "might have swayed approximately one-eighth of an inch."

Having a roof over your head isn't as simple as it sounds. Suppose you have two roofs over your head, then there really is trouble. For instance in Trenton, N. J., the storm carried a roof of a two-story house across the top of a three-story house and draped it over another neighbor's home three doors away. There it hung for a couple of days while the two owners and their insurance agents argued. The original owner of the roof said he didn't want it any more, and refused to pay for its removal. The second man replied that it wasn't his roof, and he refused to pay too. Finally the General Adjustment Bureau, an independent organization which represents all the insurance companies in handling important losses, hired a crew to remove the roof before it fell into the street and produced more claims.

Second to roofs were claims for television aerials. About 300,000 of these were blown down by the storm, and the insurance companies paid for replacing half of them. I remember in Kingston after that "Big Blow" most of the aerials were bent over. I wonder how many Kingstonians thought of calling their insurance companies about it and see if they were covered on it. According to Donald B. Sherwood, general adjuster for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, at 85 John street, New York, TV aerials could be paid for under either the building or the household goods policy. Provided, of course, that one or the other or both had an extended-coverage clause. So it seems, a TV aerial is both a part of a building and a part of household goods. Nice to know, folks.

In Brooklyn the usual flat payment was $35 to replace aerial after storm. One claimant returned the $35 and said his TV set worked better after the storm without the aerial.

7,500 a Month Leave Public Assistance Rolls

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—An average of more than 7,500 persons, including those receiving old age assistance, have been leaving public assistance rolls monthly in New York state since March, 1950, a legislative committee was told today.

There are 128,000 fewer persons on the rolls today than at the beginning of the 19-month decline, State Social Welfare Commissioner Robert T. Lansdale reported.

Lansdale prepared his statement to be read at a hearing before the Legislative Committee on Problems of the Aging by Peter Kasius, deputy commissioner of the State Department of Social Welfare.

The report said the public assistance population now comprises 440,595 persons—172,219 children and 268,376 adults.

Among the adults are 119,361 aged, 27,360 disabled, 54,876 mothers and other relatives on the aid to dependent children rolls, 4,271 blind, and 62,508 parents and single persons on home relief.

Erie Republicans Fail to Follow in Movement for Taft

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 13 (AP)—The Erie county Republican chairman's support of Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft for the GOP presidential nomination has suffered a stiff blow from most of the county's Republican committeemen.

Fifteen of the sixteen committeemen declared yesterday they did not feel bound by Chairman Harry J. Forheda's announced support of Taft.

Forhead announced Saturday that he was backing Taft for the nomination and that he expected to be able to deliver the county's five convention delegates to the Ohio senator.

But State Chairman William L. Pfeiffer, supporting Governor Dewey's favorite for the nomination—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—stepped in the Erie county picture.

Pfeiffer, who has been trying to unseat Forhead since last August, came to Buffalo for a series of conferences with Republican leaders.

In a formal statement issued after a meeting with Pfeiffer yesterday, the 15 committeemen said: "We do not know at this time how the people in our districts feel about who should be the candidate for president. Therefore, when Mr. Forhead announced that he would instruct our delegates (to the GOP nominating convention) to be for Senator Taft, he was speaking for himself and not for us."

The 16th committeeman did not attend the meeting.

Pfeiffer said a slate of Eisenhower delegates would run in the spring primary here in opposition to any slate of Taft delegates backed by Forhead.

The dispute between Forhead and Pfeiffer came to light in August as a result of a grand jury investigation of gambling. Several local GOP leaders were indicted by the jury and Pfeiffer called for Forhead's resignation "for the good of the party."

Immediately after Pfeiffer's declaration that Forhead would be cut off from handling state patronage, Forhead was subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury.

He spent nearly two hours before the gambling probing body yesterday, but there was no indication of what he testified about.

30,000 Supporters March in Tehran To Back Premier

Tehran, Iran, Dec. 13 (AP) — Some 30,000 Nationalist supporters of Premier Mohammed Mossadegh massed before Parliament today and roared "death to the enemies of Mossadegh!" The crowd appeared menacing, but broke up later without violence.

Inside the Parliament building, the Majlis (lower house) discreetly decided to postpone until Sunday a public meeting originally scheduled for today. Instead they met in secret session.

Watchful police and troops lined the huge Majlis Square during the rally, announced as a demonstration against "British intrigue."

However, most of the threats and vilification were directed at Iranian opponents of the aged premier who led the successful fight to nationalize Iran's British-controlled oil industry.

More than a score of trucks, filled with troops bearing rifles and machine guns, blocked the main gates to the Majlis.

Identity Checked

Apparently anxious to avoid a recurrence of last Thursday's bloodshed, husky youths wearing arm bands checked the identity of everyone entering the square. In last Thursday's clash between Nationalists and Communists, at least eight persons were killed and more than 200 injured.

Loudspeakers vied with one another in praise of Massadegh and vilification of his opponents.

A metallic voice boomed through the square "where's Jamal Imami?" "Gone to hell!" the crowd yelled back.

Imami is the leader of the sit-down by 15 opposition deputies and a like number of opposition editors who have taken refuge inside the Majlis building for the past seven days, seeking Mossadegh's overthrow.

In the capital, shops and schools were closed and there was a holiday air, despite the obvious tension that prevailed. Today is the anniversary of the defeat of the puppet Azerbaijan regime in 1946.

The rally followed turbulent events yesterday during which more than 50 aged mullahs (Moslem priests) seeking refuge in a mosque from alleged terrorists, were attacked in a fist-fight by rival mullahs. Yesterday's turbulence also included several pro-Mossadegh and anti-foreign parades.

Discussion Is Refused

Washington, Dec. 13 (AP)—President Truman would not discuss the Korean truce negotiations for publication at his news conference today. The question came up, but his brief answer was made off the record.

Parade Queen Chosen

Pasadena, Calif., Dec. 13 (AP)—The queen of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Jan. 1 will be blonde, blue-eyed Nancy True Thorne. Her selection was announced today. She's 17 years old and a junior at Pasadena City College. The 43rd queen of the tournament was chosen from among 3,000 students. Nancy has a B-plus average, majors in mathematics, plans to enroll in Stanford to study architecture. Her measurements: five feet, six inches; 124 pounds, bust 34, waist 25, hips 35. "I want to acquire enough knowledge of architecture to design my own home, and marry and settle down in that home," Nancy says.

Will Not Contribute

Paris, Dec. 13 (AP)—The United States announced in unmistakable terms today that it won't contribute funds to a $500 million annual world development fund proposed by five small countries. Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) U. S. delegate in the UN Assembly's Financial Committee, said the plan wouldn't work because only the United States has any money at all for it and it is already deeper into the purse than any other country. Burma, Chile, Cuba, Egypt and Yugoslavia sponsored a resolution that would set up a detailed plan for a fund to finance economic development of underdeveloped countries.

Typhoon Death Toll Reaches 569

Manila, Dec. 13 (AP)—The death toll from a typhoon which swept across the central Philippines Monday rose to 569 as the same storm doubled back today to strike the islands again.

The Weather Bureau forecast the center of the storm would strike Friday on the west coast of Luzon Island about 100 miles north of Manila. Torrential rains drenched Manila today.

A second typhoon, coming in from the east, veered so much the Weather Bureau said it probably would just graze the east coast of Luzon.

This afternoon the center of the turnabout typhoon was 200 miles southwest of Manila. The second storm was 500 miles due east of the city.

Swing North of Leyte

Both are swinging well north of Leyte Island, which suffered the heaviest blow from the 130 mile winds Monday.

The Red Cross and mayors of Leite towns reported 457 people were killed on the island by the storms and by landslides. Torrents of muddy earth cascaded over coastal villages at the height of the storm.

They struck with such a roar that earthquakes were reported. Seismologists said there were no quakes, but the slides themselves might have caused local tremors.

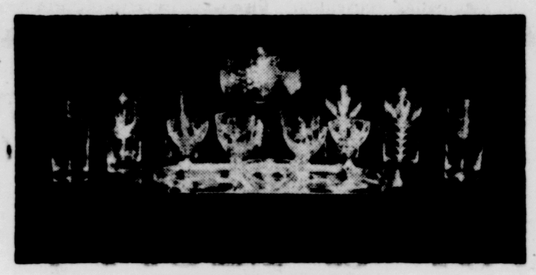

Belated reports to the Red Cross Cross listed 27 dead on Samar Island. Previously no deaths had been reported from there.

Other revised death tolls by islands were Negroes 52, Cebu 29, Panay 4.

The storm left 150,000 homeless and caused untold millions in property damage.

Wexler Is Sentenced

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—Irving (Waxey Gordon) Wexler, one time prohibition beer baron, was sentenced today to serve two concurrent terms of from 25 years to life in prison on his plea of guilty to the illegal sale of narcotics. The sentence was a virtual life sentence for the 63-year-old man who is a fourth felony offender. The law calls for sentences of 15 years to life for a person convicted four times of a felony. Wexler had fought to have previous convictions judged illegal.

Most bridge players think of a trump coup only when they are in a very high contract. Occasionally, however, this rare play can be employed in a lowly part score, as may be seen from today's hand originally played by Alexander Nusinoff, New York bridge expert.

The bidding was very tame, logically enough, and Nusinoff won the opening heart lead in his own hand with the ace, not expecting any fireworks in the play. He promptly laid down the ace and king of diamonds, discovering the bad trump break when West discarded the eight of clubs.

Unshaken by the bad break, Nusinoff entered dummy with the king of hearts and returned a heart through East. This put East on the horns of a dilemma. Whether East ruffed or discarded, South could fulfill the contract.

East actually ruffed with the ten of diamonds and Nusinoff discarded a club. East next returned a club to dummy's ace, and another heart was led back.

What was East to do now? If he ruffed, South could over-ruff and draw trumps. Hence East discarded a club, whereupon South ruffed with the deuce of diamonds. At this point South had already won six tricks and could afford to lead any black card from his hand.

The defenders could take their clubs and spades, but eventually South would make his queen-nine of trumps, fulfilling the contract.

Must Have Signals

Albany, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Motor Vehicle Bureau warned today that all automobiles manufactured after next Jan. 1 must be equipped with mechanical directional signals in order to be registered in New York state. A bill, mandating the equipment, was approved by the 1949 Legislature, and signed by Governor Dewey. So far, Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher has approved two types: a flashing light and an arrow-type light. Cars manufactured before the Jan. 1 deadline do not have to carry the directional signals. Another state law, however, provides that operators of these vehicles must use hand signals before making turns.

Early examples of veneered furniture can be traced back to ancient Egypt, when it was made for kings.

The U. S. flag should be raised and lowered by hand. It should be displayed from sunrise to sunset.

At Opening of Community Concerts Winter Season

Nikolai Graudan, cellist and Joanna Graudan, pianist were greeted last night in the Kingston High School auditorium at the opening of the winter series of concerts sponsored by the Community Concert Association. Shown with the artists who are seated, are officers of the association, standing, l to r, Mrs. Louis Kegler, secretary; Lloyd LeFever, vice-president; Gordon Craig, treasurer; N. Levan Haver, president, and Mrs. Benjamin Johnston, membership chairman. (Freeman photo).

Community Concerts Association Rewards Members With Rare Musical Experience

A rare musical treat was experienced last night by the more than 500 members in attendance at the Kingston High School auditorium when the accomplished artists, Nikolai and Joanna Graudan, were presented by the Community Concerts Association, as the first of a series of three concerts to be given during the winter season. Although these artists are outstanding soloists, they exhibited their unquestionable ability to perform as a duo as well, in the first part of the program.

Born in Russia, Joanna and Nikolai Graudan came to America in 1938, after having received recognition throughout Europe where they had appeared as guest artists with the Berlin and London Philharmonic orchestras and with the BBC Symphony orchestra. Their coast to coast tours in this country and Canada, comprising 60 concerts annually, have included appearances under the auspices of the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., the New Friends of Music in New York, the Baltimore Museum of Art and the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. Last season the Graudans toured in Israel.

Their duo program last night had been selected from compositions by composers who had written for the combination of piano and cello and it was interesting to note the interchange of leads for the instruments. In one instance the piano took the lead with the cello playing the accompaniment, and then the order was reversed.

In the fugues and other portions of the compositions, the artists executed the musical figures with the utmost desirability. Although this might be considered to be a foregone conclusion for soloists of their stature, a duo composed of piano and cello is so unusual and so rare that few people have the opportunity to see how well they go together when played by accomplished artists.

Of the group of four piano compositions played by Joanna Graudan, two might be said to be outstanding. Although not as brilliant and spectacular as her final number, Etude de Concert by Franz Liszt, the Sonetto del Petrarca also by Liszt, brought out what seemed to be the most outstanding capabilities of the artist. In this interesting composition, she attained beautiful shading and rippling bell like qualities which are so seldom drawn from the keyboards of a piano. Few pianists, even of the highest calibre, succeed in this achievement.

In the Etude de Concert, Mrs. Graudan was confronted with a score which would confound anyone but the most expert for Listz had attempted to duplicate the almost unplayable type of music for which Paganini, the famous violinist, was noted. One of the most impressive features of this etude is the sustained treatment of the bass passages which are reminiscent of the drawn out tone of an organ. This is but one of the many extremely difficult problems presented to the pianist who plays this composition.

Nikolai Graudan's solos were played flawlessly and he demonstrated the sonority and singing quality of the cello which characteristic is perhaps the one which endears the instrument to most persons.

The brilliant and effective composition At The Fountain by Karl Davidoff, though demonstrating Mr. Graudan's agility and mastery of the instrument, was eclipsed, it seemed to us, in beauty and interest by the preceding composition he played, Holy Thursday at Midnight by Joaquin Turina. In this moving work, a majestic feeling and tonal beauty of a very high order was achieved by the artist. As a curious and stunning effect, the simulation of a distant bugle call accomplished by the playing of a harmonic, was outstanding.

The artists generously and graciously responded to the ardent appreciation readily demonstrated by the audience and played several encores concluding with Schumann's Ave Maria.

The Community Concerts Association is to be complimented for bringing to the city, musicians, whose broad experience, thorough training and creative interpretation has earned for them the high repute Nikolai and Joanna Graudan hold in musical circles.

The next in the series of winter concerts will be given on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 13, when the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra will be presented by the local association.

Miss Anna C. Cole Becomes Bride of Richard J. Peters

Miss Anna Catherine Cole, daughter of Mrs. Bridget Cole, 42 Elmendorf street, was married to Richard Joseph Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, 132 Market street, Saugerties, Sunday, Dec. 9, in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. The Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception followed at the Yacht Club.

The bride was escorted by her brother, William Cole, of 234 Bruyn avenue.

Miss Mercy Cole, sister of the bride was the honor attendant.

Walter Peters was his brother's best man. Joseph Cole, East Kingston, brother of the bride, and Frederick Russell, cousin of the groom, served as ushers.

Following a wedding trip to Phoenix, Ariz., the couple will reside at 42 Elmendorf street.

Estate Is Appraised

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—A tax appraisal yesterday fixed at $1,476,727 the net estate of Mrs. Louisa Pierpont Satterlee, daughter of the late financier J. Pierpont Morgan. Mrs. Satterlee died in 1946. Her husband, Herbert L. Satterlee, committed suicide the following year. The estate goes to two daughters, Mabel S. Ingalls of Salisbury Mill, and Eleanor M. Gibbs of Litchfield, Conn.

Measles Epidemic Lasts in November

Measles remained epidemic in Kingston and nearby communities during the month of November. During the month of November there were 282 cases reported to the Ulster County Health Department, a considerable number in excess of the previous month.

Of these cases 199 were reported from Kingston city and 83 from the county districts.

In addition to the regular measles there were 7 cases of German measles in the city and 2 in the county.

Chickenpox cases reported totaled 22, with the cases equally divided between the city and county.

There were only three cases of mumps reported, all in the city, and three cases of strep sore throat including scarlet fever, two in the city and one in the county.

One Polio Case

Other communicable diseases were at a minimum, only one case of whooping cough being reported during the month.

There was one case of polio in November, that of a mother of three children. She is now receiving rehabilitation at the West Haverstraw Hospital.

The epidemic of measles which has been in evidence for the past couple of months is rather unusual for the fall of the year, however other communities have experienced the same situation this fall.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT HOME

A wife tells me: "My husband and I would like to have Open House on New Year's day for our many friends and neighbors. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded and also what to serve in addition to the traditional eggnog?"

Invitations are written on your double visiting card (or else on your card with Mr. put in front of the Mrs.) and the message is "Eggnog 4 to 6 New Year's Day." In addition to the punch bowl filled with eggnog, there should be either lady cake, or black fruit cake, or both—also, for those who don't like sweets, a platter of thin sandwiches of plain bread and butter is usually proffered. If possible, you should serve hot tea (as well as the eggnog) for those who may find eggnog too rich.

Sending Out Own Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: Because my fiance is of a different religion than I am, my parents refuse to have anything to do with my coming marriage. Is there any way in which we could send out our own wedding invitations, or would it be better, under the circumstances to be married very quietly and send no invitations?

Answer: The following wording is particularly well suited to your situation:

The honour of your presence is requested
at the marriage of Miss Mary Smith
to
Mrs. Henry Jones
etc.

Typewritten Acceptance

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer often receives invitations from other business firms reading as follows: "The Bank Company requests the pleasure of your company, etc." Inasmuch as these are not actually personal invitations but rather from one business firm to another, would it be permissible for me to acknowledge them for my employer with a typewritten note?

Answer: Yes, if written on the firm's business paper, but not if it is written on his personal note paper.

Royals and Lakers Are Tied for Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Western Division of the National Basketball Association was all tied up today with the Rochester Royals and the Minneapolis Lakers holding down first place and Boston's Celtics had moved within a game of the Syracuse Nats in the Eastern Division.

The Lakers advanced to tie last night as they defeated the Baltimore Bullets 99-79 for their highest scoring mark of the season. The Celtics closed in on the Nats with an 89-84 decision over Milwaukee's Hawks.

George Mikan poured in 25 points to pace the Lakers to their second victory in their last six games. The defeat was the Bullets' fifth in six games.

The Celtics staged a last-half rally to defeat the Hawks in a game that saw two Boston coaches —Red Auerbach and Bones McKinney—tossed out of the game for strongly-worded protests to the officials on decisions. Milwaukee lost its two big men, Don Otten and Don Rehfeldt, on fouls in the second half.

Yankees to Retire Joe DiMaggio's No. 5

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—First it was uniform No. 3 to be retired by the New York Yankees in honor of one of its most famous players. Then it was No. 4, and now—No. 5.

The Yankees announced No. 5, worn by Joe DiMaggio for 13 years as a Yankee, would be taken out of circulation and sent to the Hall of Fame with Joe's uniform, glove and bat with which he hit his last home run.

Soon after Babe Ruth left the Yankees in 1935, his number 3 was retired. Four years later Lou Gehrig's No. 4 followed suit.

Medwick Hired

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 13 (AP)—Joe Medwick, former St. Louis Cardinals baseball star and former manager of a Miami Beach club, has been named manager of the Tampa Smokers of the Florida International League.

Fifth Charles Win Over Joey Maxim

San Francisco, Dec. 13 (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles has finally convinced light heavyweight title holder Joey Maxim, after five beatings, that it is a hopeless cause to challenge him.

Charles, who confidently expects to punch the crown off Jersey Joe Walcott's head in their return fight early next year, dashed Maxim's hopes for a successful foray into the heavier division at the Cow Palace last night.

The lean Cincinnati Negro outpunched the 175 pound king to win an unanimous 12 round decision handily. Charles weighed 190, Maxim 178.

There were no knockdowns and not much sustained action. Neither was daamged or even in trouble. The crowd of 10,827 booed at times in dull moments when Maxim engaged in his frequent clinches.

Rangers Finally Win Game From Boston

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Rangers, after almost two months of trying, finally won a National Hockey League game from the Boston Bruins.

Getting the jump on the Bruins last night on Madison Square Garden ice, New York won the decision, 6-3, and moved out of the cellar into a fourth place tie with Montreal.

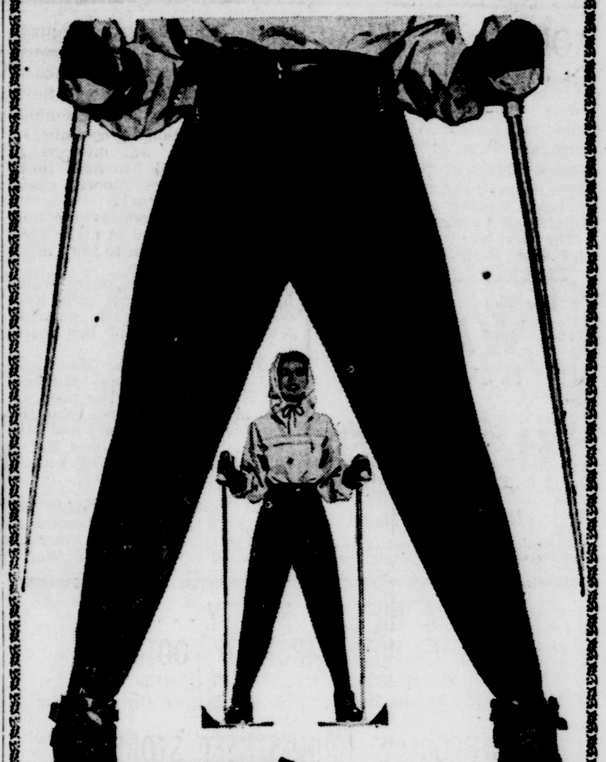

It was the first New York victory over Boston in seven meetings this season. Before last night, Boston had won three, with three other games ending in a tie.

Going into the final period leading, 3-2 after holding a 3-0 edge midway in the second stanza, the Rangers won on a pair of goals by Gaye Stewart.

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 13 (AP)—Tony Trabert and Ted Schroder virtually swept their Swedish opponents off the courts in the first two singles matches of the U. S.-Sweden interzone Davis Cup final today and were expected to finish the job Friday by taking the doubles in similar convincing fashion.

Tony and Ted, whose selection for the singles over Vic Seixas and Dick Savitt caused some surprise, each won their singles matches in straight sets to give the U. S. a commanding 2-0 lead. A victory in the doubles will put the U. S. in the challenge round against Australia.

Trabert, a Cincinnati youth on leave from the Navy, crushed Sven Davidsson, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7. Then the veteran Schroeder from La Canada, Calif., stormed over Lennart Bergelin, Sweden's No. 1 player, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4. Davidsson and Bergelin will pair against Tony and Ted in the doubles.

7,000 See Matches

A crowd of 7,000 somewhat short of Koonyong Stadium's capacity, saw the one-sided matches.

Trabert defeated Davidsson in the opening match by staying in the backcourt and passing the net rushing Swede or forcing him into errors.

In three sets Tony scored 39 clean winners, almost all of them on passing shots down the sidelines. Davidsson had only 29 winners, 14 of them in the final set. Practically all of his were scored from the net on sharp volleys.

The match lasted an hour and one-half in a gusty wind. The sun finally popped out in the last game of the match.

Schroeder played a superb game in crushing Bergelin. The match was played in bright sunshine and very little wind in contrast to the Trabert-Davidsson affair.

Indicative of his superiority, Schroeder scored 32 placements to Bergelin's 13 and served nine aces to none for the Swede. The match lasted only 52 minutes the last set 18 minutes.

All-Time Record Set by Detroiter

Chicago, Dec. 12 (AP)—A sensational four-game series of 987, which broke tournament records for both men and women, zoomed Connie Powers of Detroit into second place today as qualifying play ended in the women's division of the National All-Star bowling tournament.

Miss Powers, a 39-year-old bowling alley clerk, shot games of 234, 247, 247 and 259 to break by 11 pins the former record of 976 held by Ralph Smith of Los Angeles since 1949.

Miss Powers, a five foot, 11 inch woman with a powerful swing, amassed a total of 4,724 for the 24-game qualifying series. She finished next to Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia, who placed first with 4,756.

The Misses Powers and Wene will join 12 other qualifiers, plus seeded Mrs. Marion Ladewig, Grand Rapids, the 1950 champion, and Mrs. Stephanie Balough, Cleveland, in the four-day finals starting tomorrow.

RESERVE POWER FOR KHS BASKETBALL VARSITY

Hurley Gun Club Meets Friday

Date of the monthly meeting of the Hurley Gun Club has been changed from Dec. 13 to Friday, Dec. 14, in order not to conflict with the annual election of officers of the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs on Dec. 13, Secretary George Ewell, announced today.

The Hurley meeting will be held at 8 p. m. at the Hurley Church basement.

Refreshments will be served after an important business meeting and movies.

Among the items to be discussed is the possibilities of a restricted membership for next year; extensive posting and possibility of a special state license allowing club members to hunt pheasants on specified dates other than those of the regular state season.

Other projects that will be discussed are: formation of a woman's auxiliary; stocking of Hurley streams and lakes with fish netted from the Hudson river.

An offer has been made to the club to assist in the latter project by a commercial fisherman who is licensed to transport fish.

Six Champs Out In All-Star Test

Chicago, Dec. 13 (AP)—Six former champions were on the sidelines today as 36 crack bowlers started firing in the final playoffs in the 11th annual All Star National match game bowling tournament.

The ex-titleholders were knocked out in the preliminary rounds of the bowling marathon which started last Saturday with a field of 160 of the nation top keglers.

The 14 who won their way into the finals were top men in the field of 46 which entered the qualifying round yesterday after 24 games in the preliminaries. Only five of the 14 were in the finals last year.

James Vaughan, the 28-year-old accountant of Torrance, Calif., topped the field in the preliminary rounds with a 36-game total of 7,557. The former Dallas kegler rolled into the lead on Saturday and stayed on top throughout the firing. He finished with an average of three pins under 210.

Former champions knocked out of the finals were Buddy Bomar and Joe Wilman of Chicago; Ned Day, West Allis, Wis.; Johnny Crimmins of Detroit; Andy Varipapa, Hempstead, Lond Island, N. Y., and Connie Schwoegler, Madison, Wis.

$47,000
TOWN OF SHANDAKEN, NEW YORK
BRIDGE (SERIAL) BONDS, 1952
NOTICE OF BOND SALE

Sealed proposals will be received and considered by the undersigned Supervisor of the Town of Shandaken, Ulster County, New York, at Town Hall, Town of Shandaken, in Allaben, New York, at 2 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time, on the 27th day of December, 1951, at which time and place the bids will be opened, for the purchase at not less than par and accrued interest of $47,000 Bridge (Serial) Bonds, 1952, of said Town, of the denomination of $1,000 each, dated January 1, 1952, maturing $2,000 on July 1 in each of the years 1953 to 1962, both inclusive, and $3,000 on July 1 in each of the years 1963 to 1971, both inclusive, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum, payable semi-annually July 1 and January 1. Principal and interest of said bonds are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at Kingston Trust Company, in Kingston, New York. Bonds will be in bearer form with coupons attached and may be converted into fully registered bonds, and will be valid and legally binding general obligations of said Town of Shandaken, all the taxable real property within which will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

The State Constitution requires the Town to pledge its faith and credit for the payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon and to make annual appropriations for the amounts required for the payment of such interest, and the redemption of such bonds. The State Constitution also provides that if at any time the appropriating authorities fail to make the required appropriations for the annual debt service on the bonds and certain other obligations of the Town, a sufficient sum shall be set apart from the first revenues thereafter received and shall be applied for such purposes: also that the fiscal officer of the Town may be required to set apart and apply such revenues as aforesaid at the suit of any holder of such obligations.

Each bid must be for all of said $47,000 bonds and state a single rate of interest therefor. Unless all bids are rejected, the award will be made to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, not exceeding the rate above specified, stated in a multiple of one-quarter or one-tenth of one per centum per annum, without reference to premium, provided, however, that if two or more bidders offer to purchase said bonds at the same lowest rate of interest, then such award will be made to the bidder offering the highest premium. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, and any bid not complying with this Notice of Sale will be rejected. Each bid must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the undersigned Supervisor and should be marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds" and must be accompanied with a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of said Town of Shandaken, New York, for $940 as a good faith deposit to secure the Town against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. No interest will be allowed on the amount of the good faith deposit. Said bonds are issued pursuant to the Constitution and statutes of the State of New York, including among others, the Town Law and the Local Finance Law, for the reconstruction of certain town bridges in said Town, the period of probable usefulness of which is twenty years.

In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds, the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase the bonds, and in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

Said bonds will be delivered at New York, New York, or at such other place as may be agreed with the purchaser about January 15, 1952.

The approving opinion of Messrs. Vanderwater, Sykes, Heckler & Galloway, Attorneys of New York City, will be furnished to the purchaser without cost. The usual no-litigation statement will be included in the closing papers.

The population of the Town, as shown by the 1950 U. S. Census, is 1,887. The Debt Statement to be filed, pursuant to Section 109.00 of the Local Finance Law in connection with the sale of the bonds herein described, prepared as of December 1, 1951, will show the average assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation by the Town to be $3,714,325.00, its debt limit to be $297,146.00, and its total net indebtedness to be $103,250.00. Bond anticipation notes, in the amount of $47,000.00, heretofore issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds have been included in computing such net indebtedness, and such notes will be redeemed from the proceeds of the bonds. A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder upon request.

Four Are Hurt In Accident at Esopus Monastery

Two passenger cars and a tractor-trailer were involved in an accident on route 9W near Mt. St. Alphonsus at Esopus Wednesday afternoon about 4 o'clock.

One of the passengers was hospitalized and three others were slightly injured.

State Police at Highland made an investigation but there was no arrest.

Mrs. Mary Halveka, 40, of 400 East 73rd street, New York, received contusions and lacerations and a back injury and was taken to Benedictine Hospital. Her husCharles Halveka, 51, driver of the car also suffered contusions and abrasions and was treated at the hospital and discharged.

Dietrich Vesper, 72, 55 Lafayette avenue, Saugerties, and his wife, Lucy Vesper, 62, were slightly injured and reported they would seek medical attention from their own physician.

Robert Freeman, 31, of Dexter, driver of the truck was not injured. He was operating a vehicle owned by Fred Murray of 111 Ferris avenue, Syracuse.

State police reported the accident happened when the Vesper car, traveling south, struck the left side of the north bound truck after crossing to the left of the road. After striking the tractor-truck, the Vesper car was knocked back to the southbound lane and struck the Halveka car which was following the Vesper car south bound. The left side of the Halveka car was damaged. The Vesper car was badly wrecked. The front wheels of the truck were damaged.

Newkirk Feted by Elks

Following the policy of honoring Elks who attain civic heights, Kingston Lodge, 550, gave a testimonial dinner in the club on Fair street, Wednesday, for Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk (center) elected for his third term last November. Approximately 200 Elks and friends attended the affair. Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick (left) and County Judge John M. Cashin, toastmaster for the occasion, were among the prominent fraternal brothers present. (Freeman Photo)

Newkirk's Dinner Demonstrates Free Feeling in Elks

"This occasion is a demonstration of the greatness of America," said Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk in addressing more than 200 Elks gathered Wednesday night at his testimonial dinner given by Kingston Lodge, 550.

In the assemblage were some of the area's most prominent citizens, business and professional men and members of the judiciary headed by Chief Judge John T. Loughran of the New York Court of Appeals.

As he expressed his appreciation to Exalted Ruler John J. Schwalbach for a set of golf clubs, and to his brother Elks for the large turnout, the mayor went back to the days before he took office.

"Little did I ever dream of this day," he said, "as I covered this territory as a salesman. America is a great country, where everyone has an equal chance."

No Politics

And, he referred to the Elks as one of the most democratic organizations, where politics are banned and brotherly love is the guiding rule.

To demonstrate, Newkirk turned and smiled at William F. Edelmuth, a former mayor, who was elected by a different political party.

Edelmuth served three terms and Newkirk was elected for his third in November.

Further stressing the opportunities of a free land, Newkirk pointed to Edelmuth's rise from salesman to mayor, and told of having met him many times during their days of calling on business men of the area.

Lasting Memory

Newkirk said the memory of his testimonial would be lasting and he hoped he'd be able to return the kind thought expressed.

In his speech, Judge Loughran referred to America as a liberty loving nation and to the Elks as a fraternal order where friendliness abounds.

The judge said it is possible to attain the heights in a land where liberty allows the citizens to bring up children their way, follow the occupations they choose and worship according to the dictates of their conscience.

Feels Great Friendship

"I never enter this lodge without feeling the great friendship that abounds," he stressed.

County Judge John M. Cashin was toastmaster. Other speakers were County Attorney Frederick H. Stang, Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, who was chairman of arrangements; the Rev. Stanley Dean, pastor of Holy Cross Church and chaplain of the Elks, and Exalted Ruler John J. Schwalbach.

John Brophy of the show As the Girls Go sang several solos, Chic Provenzano and Pete Ferraro teamed up for musical novelties and the Joe Vigna trio played a program of popular numbers.

Peter Barmann, oldest living member of Kingston Lodge, 550, was present for the dinner.

Bus Driver Dies Of Heart Attack

New York, Dec. 13 (AP)—Three days after his bus was involved in a spectacular Times Square collision, an apparently uninjured driver died of a heart attack.

Homer Bragg, 40, father of three children, was operating a Broadway bus involved in a crash with two taxicabs at the "World's Crossroads" on Friday.

Eight persons suffered injuries, but Bragg, after being taken to a hospital for a check-up, was allowed to go home. He became ill on Sunday and went to a hospital where he died the next day, it became known yesterday.

The medical examiners' office reported after an autopsy that he had been suffering from a heart condition and that it caused his death.

Bus company officials said Bragg had an excellent driving record over a 15-year period and that he was pronounced physically fit in his last medical examination in 1949.

Bicycles Reported Stolen

Two boys' bicycles, both Schwinn models valued at $65 or over, were reported stolen in this city Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. William Zwick of 146 Franklin street told police her son's ivory trimmed maroon bicycle was taken from the MJM School during the afternoon, and Mrs. Walter Donnaruma of 143 Franklin street said her son's green and white bicycle was stolen.

Car Interior Damaged

The interior of a 1938 sedan owned by Otto Mayr of 20 Newkirk avenue was badly damaged by fire of uncertain origin at 3:53 a. m. today, the fire department reported. A hydrant stream was used to extinguish the fire, which also destroyed a baby carriage and several venetian blinds inside the vehicle. The car was parked on Newkirk avenue near Mayr's home when the fire was discovered.

The Weather

THURSDAY, DEC. 13, 1951

Sun rises at 7:04 a. m.; sun sets at 4:13 p. m., E.S.T.

Weather, partly cloudy.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 24 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 30 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—Some cloudiness and cold today, with a few snow flurries in higher sections of Westchester and Rockland counties, highest temperature near 35. Fair tonight, colder than last night, lowest near 20 in city and near 10 in interior of northern suburbs. Fair and continued cold Friday, highest in lower 30's.

Eastern New York—Considerable cloudiness and quite cold with snow flurries mostly in the mountains tonight and Friday. Lowest temperature tonight zero to 10 below in the north and five to 10 above in south portion.

Fines Reduced

Ipoh, Malaya (AP)—The Appeal Court has reduced fines of $80 imposed on two engineers who locked up a sentry when they found him sleeping on duty at the Perak hydroelectric company's dam. The two company engineers felt they were convicted of confining the special constable. They felt it their duty to see that Communist terrorists don't damage the dam and a sleeping sentry with his gun at his side was not of much protective value.

Coldest Weather Felt in Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

The coldest weather of the season hit midwest areas today with temperatures again dipping below zero in northern border states.

The cold air centered in the North Central states but extended from the Dakotas eastward through the Great Lakes region. The sub-zero spots were in northern Minnesota, northwestern Wisconsin and most of North Dakota. Temperatures were around normal in other parts of the country.

It was 13 below zero at International Falls, Minn., early today after a high of -6 yesterday. At the same time it was -12 at Grand Forks, N. D.; -9 at Duluth, Minn., and -7 at Minot, N. D. The 8 above in Chicago was the lowest of the season. Other readings included 62 in Corpus Christi, Tex.; 51 in Miami, 55 in Los Angeles, 31 in New York and Washington and 33 in Seattle.

Lower readings were forecast tonight for most of the cold belt.

Snow flurries fell in the Great Lakes region and the upper Ohio valley, parts of the Dakotas and in the northern Rocky mountain area. Fair to partly cloudy weather was reported in other sections.

Latin authors ages ago used the name Montana to designate rocky mountainous lands of western Europe.
